

NO CHANGE TODAY FOR WAR FRONT

VERDUN STILL HOLDS ALTHOUGH OUTER FORTS ARE REPORT-ED FALLEN.

LITTLE CHANGE SHOWN

Germans Claim French Loss in Seeking to Recapture Trenches Has Been Large.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, March 2.—The official German statement of today says the French sacrificed men unsuccessfully in a counter attack on Fort Douaumont, one of the outlying defenses of Verdun, which was captured by the Germans. The situation on the Franco-Belgian front, the communication says, is unchanged.

London, March 28.—An Amsterdam dispatch from the Netherlands says that Fort Vieux, five miles to the north-east of Verdun, has been destroyed by heavy mortars, according to unconfirmed German reports, but that the French have brought heavy artillery into play to bear on the approaches. It is also said that a German battery has been beaten back by French and British guns, and that German forces have concentrated 20,000 men near Buzzy who are to resume the offensive with reinforcements from the Argonne. Buzzy is about sixteen miles to east of Verdun.

The Exact Loss.
The exact figures of French losses are not known.

on German have been given to the committee of military affairs at the Chamber of Deputies by Colonel Roucambelle, chief secretary to General Gallieni, minister of war. It is stated that they were not high. The Pettibon says the German losses to date in the Verdun fighting amount to between 125,000 and 130,000 and constitute about one-third of the German effectives actively employed.

Paris, March 1 (delayed).—The press and public of France are mystified at the continued pause in the German attacks around Verdun. Caution born of experience, leads generally to hed at the continued pause in the German attacks around Verdun. Caution, born of experience, leads generally to the rejection of the view that the Germans had a high hope of trying to capture the Lorraine fortress. It is thought more likely they are merely resting before starting afresh with a greater energy. It is evident in the quarters that the attack on Verdun was only a preliminary to operations on a much larger scale for the purpose of trying to crush the French once and for all. However that may be, the German General Joffre was fully prepared for all eventualities. So far as only the local French reserves have been called upon at Verdun, the greater general reserve force remaining intact is ready to meet any further onslaughts or for carrying out a greater counter attack in the opportune moment.

Where Next?
The question is raised as to whether the next German attack will again be at Verdun or along the front from the Somme to the Aisne, and it is known that the Germans have been making preparations along the latter line.

These preparations, however, are not so elaborate as those which had been made for Verdun and should the Germans attempt the latter plan the military observers say that they would be liable to a flank attack by the British in Artois and Flanders.

VAGUE COMPARISON

Condemns Friendly Relations of Swiss Officers With Germans and Austrians.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 23, v. Paris, March 2 (delayed).—Colonel Reichel, Swiss federal auditor, in his charge for the prosecution against the two Swiss colonels whose acquiescence has already been anticipated. The charge of committing secret military operations to documents to German and Austrian attaches, in Switzerland, said he strongly condemned the too friendly relations of one of the colonels with a German attaché and added, to explain his sentiment in this regard, he need only point to the fate of Belgium, "whom our adversaries have never been able to win without any show of reason or without resorting to anything resembling a certain relationship with anything resembling a German general staff is supposed to have been."

SWEDISH GOVERNMENT PROHIBITS SPEAKERS

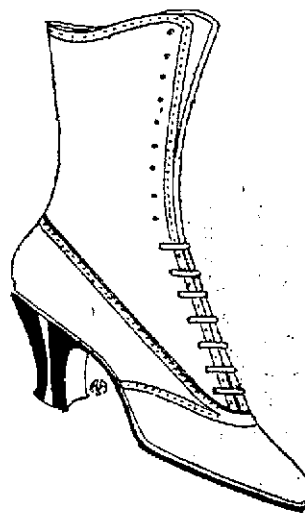

Of Any Belligerent Nation Making
Public Addresses in the Future
Says Report.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, March 2.—A correspondent of Copenhagen Central News says the Swedish government has decided to punish citizens of any belligerent country from addressing public gatherings.

erings in Sweden during the war. One official notification to that effect, he says, has been issued in Stockholm in connection with the invitation to students organization to Professor Gilbert Murray of Oxford University, and other foreigners, to address them.

Mount Sterling, Ky., March 2.—Mrs. Henrietta Williams, widow of J. S. (Cerro Gordo) Williams, the Mexican war veteran, died here today. During the civil war Mrs. Williams fitted out a full company of confederate infantry at her own expense. She was ninety years old.

Champagne Boots $5.00

The popular boot for wear right now. Also shown in White Kid and Nu Buck, $4.00

D.J. LUBY & Co.

MY WHAT A CROWD

That Was Heard Many Times Yesterday At HOWARD'S SALE

There's A Reason. A Money Saving Chance For Man, Woman and Child. Tell Your Friends, You Do Them A Favor.

REMEMBER HOWARD'S

SPRING WALL PAPERS READY NOW. We show the largest line of Wall Papers at popular prices in Southern Wisconsin. The new designs are the prettiest we have ever seen. Come in and see them.

C.W. DIEHLS
THE ART STORE
26 W. Milw. St.

Let the children earn some extra money by bringing the clean white clothes, free from buttons and pockets, to the Gazette.

MISS GARBUTT WEDS GEORGE W. YAHN, JR. AT TRINITY CHURCH

Marriage Is Solemnized at Eight O'clock Wednesday Evening—Most Beautiful and Impressive Ceremony.

Miss Sara Alice Garbutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garbutt, 407 North Terrace street, and George W. Yahn Jr. were married at eight o'clock last evening at Trinity church in the presence of three hundred guests. Reverend Henry Williams, pastor of Trinity, read the Episcopal marriage service. The wedding march from Lohengrin, composed by Wagner, was played by the organ and Miss Ruth Soullman and Miss Elizabeth Rifeled on the violins heralded the approach of the wedding party to the altar. Miss Ruth Soullman, the groom and Miss Elizabeth Rifeled, a cousin, stretched the ribbons which formed the bridal aisle. The ushers, Benjamin Buckmaster of Madison, Leveley Wilford of Belmont, Stanley Metcalf and Frank Hazen of this city, preceded the four bridesmaids. Miss Lucille Hyde, Miss Margaret McNeil, Miss Joanna Hayes, and Miss Della Randall of Bryan, Ohio, the bridesmaids were becomingly gowned in taffeta silk, each in a rainbow color. Miss Hyde in lavender, Miss McNeil in blue, Miss Hayes in yellow, and Miss Randall in green. They wore wreaths of iridescent flowers and carried huge colonial bouquets of spring flowers. Miss Hyde, the bride, was of medium height, of pink complexion, and wore a gown of pink champagne tulle trimmed with silver lace and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. She was escorted to the altar by her father. She was charming in a gown of pink champagne tulle veiled with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, white roses and lilies of the valley. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Russell Reynolds of Dundee, Mich.

The church was most elaborately decorated for the affair. The altar and the entire front of the church were banked with white roses, sun-lax, palms and spring flowers, which served to make the scene one of exquisite beauty. Following the ceremony the bridal party and relatives of the bride and groom returned to the Garbutt home where a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Yahn left last evening on a wedding journey of two weeks duration. They will be at home after May 1st at 436 North Pearl street. The bride is a charming young woman who is a student at the University of Wisconsin. She has many warm friends. She was graduated from the Janesville high school and attended the college of music at Oberlin.

BIG GAINS OBTAINED IN FEEDING CONTEST

Calf Feeding Contestants Hand In Reports on Values for February. "Tails is his name and he is growing bulgy." This is what one of the enthusiastic writers of the calf contest writes L. A. Markham, county agent. In one of the monthly reports, the February report for the Rock county calf raising contest is being received at the office of the county agent. The results of a month's feeding are astonishing, and some large increases of weight have been gained. One calf that had the largest gain during the month of February had an increase of fifty-three pounds. Others ranged from forty-eight pounds to twenty-five pounds gain. The officers of the contest are very pleased with the results the entrants are receiving and it is sure that by the close of the contest on August first some fine records will be made. There are five girls and thirty-five boys competing against each other in this contest. It is one of the first of its kind ever held in the state and other counties are watching the results obtained with great interest. Shortly after the starting of the Rock county contest was organized a similar contest in a Wisconsin county. A contest of this sort with the interest of so many young persons will go a long way to put this county first in ranking of stock raising.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Viola Keller of Cochrane, Wis., was quietly united in marriage to Edwin Losey of this city, at the German Lutheran church parsonage. The Rev. Treu performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Keller of Cochrane, Wis., and is a very popular young lady. Mr. Losey is in the employ of the Chicago & St. Paul railroad. At present they are at home to their friends at 103 Main street.

Get Rid of Piles at Home

Simple Home Treatment, Easily Applied, Gives Quick Relief and Prevents Danger from Operation.

Send for Free Trial Package and Prove It in Your Case.

Don't even think of an operation for piles. Remember what the old family doctor said. "Any part of the body that away is sore is forever." The application of Pyramid Pile Treatment will cure you in a few days. In a remarkable way the congested veins are reduced to normal and you will soon be at all right again. Try this simple home treatment. Send for a free trial package and prove beyond question it is the right treatment. Don't suffer another needless minute. Write now.

Free Package Coupon

Pyramid Drug Company, 530 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. Kindly send me trial of Pyramid Pile Treatment at once, by mail, $2.00 in plain wrapper, so I can prove its splendid results.

Name _____ Street _____ City _____ State _____

PAPER BOYS JOIN TOGETHER IN CLUB AT "Y" LAST NIGHT

Newsboys of the City Organize New Club at Y. M. C. A. Last Evening—Twenty-Five Present.

Twenty-five newsboys of the city met at the Young Men's Christian Association building last evening and organized into a new club. The interest shown by the boys was intense and the new organization promises to be very active. The time in the meeting last night was spent in organizing and electing officers. Harry Pierce, vice president, Joseph Leary, secretary and Ray Cullen, treasurer. Two captains were also elected to head the two divisions of the society. Donald Dawson will head the Gazette side and Max Munson for the American. Other business matters were handled and it was decided that each member should pay the sum of ten cents per month. This money will be used to cover the incidental expenses. Activities for the coming year were planned out. Weekly meetings will be held on every Wednesday night at seven o'clock. The first ten minutes of every meeting will be given over to a talk by some outside speaker. Business matters will be taken up after the talk and then the rest of the evening will be spent in playing games. Possibility of a Monday night meeting during the month of March was discussed. The club is still open for more members and other boys who carry papers that did not last night should come to the next weekly meeting.

The boys present last evening were as follows: Donald Dawson, Ray Cullen, Michael Dawson, Harry Mason, Walter Miller, Raymond Conroy, Harry Pierce, Belmont Sullivan, Donald Dawson, Charles Anderson, Conroy, Raymond Cullen, James Butcher, Joseph Leary, James Costello, Earl Cullen, John Cullen, Harold Swanson, Donald Clark, Harry Schultz, George Schultz.

SUSPENDS SENTENCE ON PHILLIPS TODAY

Evansville Youth Placed Under State Board of Control—Hearing on Edgerton Robbery Case.

There were three young men before the municipal court this morning, and all are around the same age—about 18 years, to have justice meted out to them for the crime of burglary. One youth, Earl Phillips of Evansville, had been sentenced to three years to the state reformatory at Joliet, Ill., for the same crime, and he was placed under the board of control to be paroled out for that period.

Some weeks ago Phillips, with another Evansville youth named Seguire, pleaded guilty to burglary and were sentenced. The Seguire youth had his sentence suspended at the time he was arraigned. Phillips, adjudged the worst offender of the two, was given a straight sentence to the reformatory. Investigation that was conducted by the state agents, however, resulted in the state reconsidering the sentence, and this morning state agents taken to afford the young man an opportunity of escaping penal punishment. He was given an imploring lecture on the court and warned that a violation of his parole would mean a full term in the reformatory.

The examination before the court of the Stanky of Edgerton and Aekel Sunday of Edgerton, who started in the municipal court this morning. The two youths are charged with night time burglary of the Ratzlaff store in Edgerton on February 20th. Testimony was taken this morning from several witnesses, including Newman, who discovered the robbery and warned the night watchmen, and August Ratzlaff, owner of the store allegedly to have been broken into.

According to the testimony the two suspects were arrested in a cellar of a building near the Ratzlaff store, sleeping in the asphalt. An electric flashlight found on the stairway to the cellar was introduced as evidence by the state.

The trial of Ira O'Don, charged with keeping a disorderly house in this city, was set over until March eighth with the consent of Attorney E. H. Ryan and S. G. Dunwiddie, district attorney.

LATE J. D. OWEN IS LAID AT REST

Funeral Services Held This Afternoon at Mineral Point Avenue Home.

The funeral of the late J. D. Owen was held this afternoon at the home of his son, J. G. Owen, on Mineral Point avenue. The Rev. Francis H. Brigham, assisted by the Rev. Andrew Porter, conducted the services. The officiating were: Robert Clark, Sidney Richardson, Elmer Van Pool, A. W. Hall, S. C. Burnham and F. W. Hall. The body was laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. Owen had been a resident of Janesville for the past ten years. With his son, E. G. Owen, he was engaged in the manufacture of lightning rods. In July Mr. Owen underwent an operation and since that time has been steadily failing in health. Death resulted from a complication of rheumatism and heart trouble.

Mr. Owen was seventy-one years of age. He was a native of Ohio state, being born July 2, 1845. When a boy he went to Postville, Iowa, where he grew to manhood. At Marion, Ia., March 30, 1870, he was united in marriage to Caroline Overacker. Most of Mr. Owen's life was spent in farming in western states. He was for many years a faithful member of the Mount Zion Episcopal church, having united with this denomination in 1876.

vices. The pall-bearers, all Beloit men, were: Joseph Martin, Glenn Dowd, Fred Meech, John Zimmerman, Julius Flint and Clarence Riley.

BROOMS AS PROTEST ON DIRTY STREETS

Chicago Business Men-Ply Brooms and Shovels on Streets in Scorn of Street Department. Chicago, March 2.—Brooms and shovels will be piled on Sixty-third street from State to Wallace tomorrow by 150 business men, as a protest against the city's alleged laxity in street cleaning in Englewood district. It was announced today. The volunteer workers will be members of the Englewood Commercial association.

HOGS AND CATTLE HAVE GOOD DEMAND

Swine Market Continues Brisk With Quotations Five Cents Higher. Chicago, March 2.—Hogs and cattle were in active demand today with substantial advances recorded. Hogs were five cents higher and best offerings selling at $9.05. Native beef brought as high as $9.70. Sheep were also in better demand with receipts light. The following are quotations: Cattle—Receipts 25,000; market strong; native beef steers 7.25@9.75; western steers 4.10@8.25; stockers and feeders 5.75@7.50; cows and heifers 4.00@4.45; calves 8.50@11.25. Hogs—Receipts 25,000; market fairly active, 5@10c above yesterday's average; light 8.60@9.00; mixed 8.70@9.10; heavy 8.80@9.10; rough 8.60@8.75; pigs 7.25@8.25; bulk of sales 8.85@9.60. Sheep—Receipts 80,000; market strong; wethers 7.90@9.60; lambs, native 7.25@11.35.

Butter—Higher; creameries 25@34. Eggs—Higher; receipts 11,153 cases; cases at mark, cases included 26@21; ordinary firsts 20@21. Potatoes—Unchanged; 22 cars. Poultry—Unchanged.

Wheat—May: Opening 1.11; high 1.12; low 1.09; closing 1.11. July: Opening 1.07; high 1.08; low 1.07; closing 1.08. Corn—May: Opening 73; high 74; low 73; closing 73. July: Opening 73; high 74; low 73; closing 73. Oats—May: Opening 42; high 43; low 42; closing 42. July: Opening 40; high 41; low 40; closing 41. Cash Market.

Wheat—No. 2 red 1.13; No. 3 red 1.08; No. 2 hard 1.11; No. 3 hard 1.05@1.03. Corn—No. 2 yellow 76; No. 4 yellow 75; No. 2 white 67; No. 4 white 66. Oats—No. 2 white 41; No. 4 white 40. Timothy—$4.50@7.00. Clover—$10.00@20.00. Pork—$19.50@20.00. Lard—$10.32. Ribs—$11.00@11.50. Bye—$2 nominal. Barley—$6@7.00.

Wednesday's Markets. Chicago, March 2.—A general advance of 10@25c in cattle values yesterday carried prices to high point of the year.

Armour & Co. paid $9.90 for two loads of 1,768-lb. Kansas City bullock being 15c above previous record March price in 1914.

In advance of 10@15c was scored in yesterday's market, with best at $9, standing highest since September, 1914.

Prevailing swine values are $2.50 higher than low time last December and $1.95 above the top in March, 1915.

In March, 1910, best hogs sold at $11.20, the highest on record. Wagers were made yesterday that $11 will be reached before they go to $8.

February average price of beef steers $8.15, second highest on record for February. Average price of lambs last month $10.90, highest on record for any month.

Actual receipts at Chicago stockyards last month 193,733 cattle, 947,285 hogs and 306,465 sheep, showing 62-850 increase in cattle, 207,414 gain in hogs and 73,332 decrease in sheep compared with February, 1915. Hog total largest on record for second month of year.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $8.87, against $8.75 Tuesday, $8.14 a week ago, $6.11 December 23, 1915, and $6.65 a year ago.

Cattle Average is High. Beef steers sold principally at $8.10 @9.10 yesterday, making high average of the year. Butcher stock advanced 10@15c in sympathy with beef cattle and calves sold strong to 25c higher. Quotations:

Choice to fancy steers... $8.90 @ 9.90
Poor to good steers... 7.70 @ 8.35
Yearlings, fair to fancy... 7.80 @ 9.50
Fat cows and heifers... 5.75 @ 8.60
Fat cows and heifers... 3.50 @ 5.60
Native bulls and steers... 4.30 @ 7.85
Feeding cattle, 600@1,100 lbs... 5.80 @ 7.55
Poor to fancy calves... 8.75 @ 11.50

Local packers, eastern shippers, speculators and Canadian packers all paid as high as $9 yesterday for hogs. Quality good and price range narrow.

Local packers, eastern shippers, speculators and Canadian packers all paid as high as $9 yesterday for hogs. Quality good and price range narrow. 245 lbs. cost $8.55@9.30. Quotations: Bulk of sales... $8.80 @ 8.95
Heavy butchers and ship... 8.90 @ 9.90
Light butchers, 190@225 lbs... 8.80 @ 8.95
Light butchers, 140@190 lbs... 8.70 @ 8.85
Heavy packing, 250@400 lbs... 8.70 @ 8.95
Mixed packing, 200@250 lbs... 8.70 @ 8.95
Rough heavy packing... 8.55 @ 8.70
Pigs to best pigs, 60@135 lbs... 7.40 @ 8.25
Stags, 80 lbs. dockage per head... $1.00 @ 8.50

Sheep Little Changed. There was no quotable change in sheep and lamb prices yesterday. Quality poorest of week. Bulk of lambs $10.50@11.15. Quotations: Lambs, common to fancy... $9.75 @ 11.40
Lambs, poor to good culls... 8.75 @ 9.70
Yearlings, poor to best... 8.85 @ 10.35
Wethers, poor to fancy... 8.00 @ 8.65

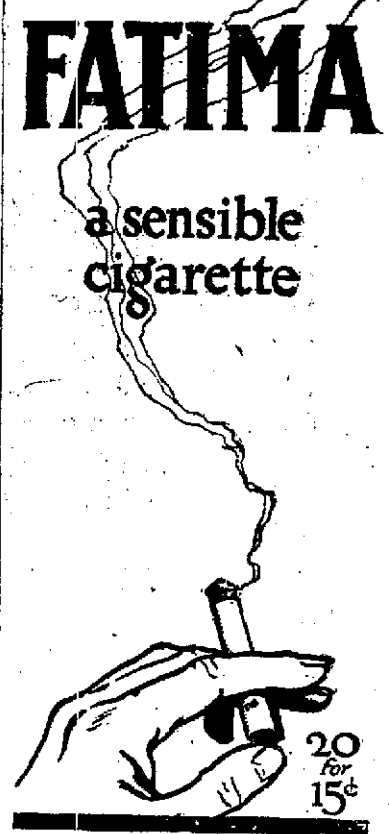

BELL-ANS Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

Wanted Customers for Strictly Fresh Eggs

EDWARD THIELE R. C. phone Red 827. Bell Phone 838.

H. S. Mottard, D. C. CHIROPRACTOR

321 Hayes Block Hours: 9 to 12 m.; 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. Evenings, 7 to 9.

a sensible cigarette

20 for 15c

STUDENT NOT GHOST BUT LIVE SOLDIER

Lawrence Student Reported to Have Been Killed in Fighting, Returns and Gives Address.

Appleton, March 2.—The Lawrence college students were startled from what they thought was a ghost in the chapel this morning. Monday the students went into mourning on account of the death of Elwood Smith of Rhinelander, his father having reported he had been killed while fighting with the French army. This morning Smith walked into the chapel and delivered an address on his experiences with the Canadian regiment in France. He enlisted in Montreal in June and sailed for Rouen, France. Nothing had been heard from him in months, until his father received word last week of his alleged death. He has quit fighting and will re-enter Lawrence.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY HOLD LEAP YEAR PARTY TUESDAY

Members of the Young People's society of the First Christian church held a Leap Year party Tuesday evening at the home of the minister, Mr. Cummins, on North Terrace street. The evening was spent in playing games and enjoying music. Refreshments were served by the boys present.

THIS WILL INTEREST MOTHERS.

Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, a Certain Relief for Feverishness, Headache, Bad Stomach, Teething Discomfort, moving and regaining the Bowels and Destroy Worms. Colds in 24 hours. They are so pleasant to the taste Children like them. Over 1,000 testimonials. Used by Mothers for 25 years. They never fail. Sold by all Druggists, 40c. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Mother Gray Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

Casseroles and Chafing Dishes
A splendid display in our window now. Prices are very reasonable. We would like to show you.
GEORGE C. OLIN
19 W. MILWAUKEE ST.

CHILDREN'S EYES
The employment of prismatic and muscular exercises have done more to strengthen the eyes to perform their normal functions than anything else. Come in and let me tell you about it.
Joseph H. Scholler Registered Optometrist.
OFFICE BADGER DRUG CO.

LADIES' SUITS, $18 Up
TAILORED TO MEASURE
Have a suit this spring with an individual style made as you want it, to fit you, and of the material you prefer. Every suit guaranteed to fit.
MODEL CLOAK & SUIT COMPANY
Both phones. 411-412 Jackson Bldg.

Prize Seal First National
5c 10c
The two most popular "Made in Janesville" Cigars. Smokers like them and buy a lot of them, because they give the best smoke satisfaction.
J. J. WATKINS, Manufacturer

BASKET BALL
SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE RINK.
Rice Lake, Wis., vs. Lakota Cardinals
Rice Lake say they have some team.
ADMISSION 35c. SKATING BEFORE AND AFTER.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Let the other fellow experiment. You want to know what your prospective car will do. The record of Ford cars in the service of more than a million owners is the best evidence of Ford reliability, economy in operation and simplicity in handling. Average two cents per mile for operation and maintenance. Touring Car $440; Runabout $390; Coupelet $590; Sedan $740, f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at
ROBERT F. BUGGS, Dealer

The Progressive Store
The charm of Beautiful Millinery is not Only Smartness of Fashion, but in the LOW PRICES
SEE OUR $5 CORONET $5 HATS

Spring Hats are here in profusion, so many beauties, we can't describe them all, but just come and see what a gathering of stylish hats we are featuring at low prices. These hats have good dash and style; they are close fitting turbans, tricorns, sailors, with straight and rolling brims. They come in all the new suit shades, as well as black.
UNTRIMMED SHAPES IN THE IMITATION GOURA FLOWERS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION AND STYLE AT POPULAR PRICES, 30c UP.
ALL OF THE NEW FANCIES THAT ARE SO POPULAR, 98c UP.
STYLISH MILLINERY AT COMMON SENSE PRICES.

Pond & Bailey
JANESVILLE'S FINEST SHOPPING CENTER
23 and 25 West Milwaukee. Janesville, Wis.

ENGLAND GETTING CHESTY OVER WAR REPLACING GLOOM

Britain Preparing to Put Her Whole
Weight into the War to Crush
The Central Powers This Spring.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

(By Wilbur S. Forrest.)

London, March 2.—There's a brand new germ in the British air. Atmospheric atoms that had the general effect of something akin to the gloom several months ago and which prompted British statesmen and public alike to speak less confidently about the final outcome of the war have disappeared. These atoms have been replaced by brighter colored atoms; peppy, optimistic little tikes.

From the big government buildings in Whitehall to the smallest London shop there is a marked change in the conversation. Every man in the street knows that Britain is getting ready for the big show. The average Briton is mentioned, but today he will show a broader expanse of shirt-front when it comes to talk about the army. The predominant topic of interest has become "Tommy."

With about 4,000,000 men in khaki, England is preparing to do things in the Spring, on land. That is common talk. No Britisher has lost any of his confidence in the Navy, but he has given up hope that the German fleet will come out and fight so he is leaving the Navy to control the seas and taking for granted that it will. Cabinet members, peers and plebeians alike look forward to the spring campaign. The government leaders who six months ago modified their earlier pronouncements that Germany must submit to the general assertion that "the war cannot cease until the enemy has evacuated France and Belgium and restored the rights of the smaller nations" are today reasserting the former statement with unqualified vigor. The reason is said to be new confidence in the army.

At High Pitch. Proof that the present talk does not originate in ordinary rumor comes from the highest sources. Lord Derby, who has raised new millions for England's land forces, is authority for the statement that England's military forces now are superior to those of her enemies in reserves and fighting ability; that the nation has reached the highest pitch of national patriotism and that this is evidenced by the fact that men who will be forced to fight under the newly enacted conscription bill will number less than seven per cent of the fighting forces as against over 93 per cent of the men who joined voluntarily. Here is one of the latest utterances of Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions:

"England is preparing to put her whole weight into the war, and Germany will feel it in a very short time. It is an effort such as England has never made before." Those who have closely analyzed the minister's statement say it can only mean that there will be no shortage of shells in the Spring.

In their latest speeches Lord Kitchener, Premier Asquith and others high in the government have reflected the new optimism. In this message at the opening of the new parliamentary session King George spoke through his premier declared:

"With a proud and grateful confidence I look to the courage, tenacity and resource of my navy and army on whom we depend worthily to perform our part in the attainment of this goal."

Members of the House of Commons, you will be asked to make financial provision for the conduct of the war.

"My Lords and gentlemen: The only measures which will be submitted to you are such as, in the opinion of my advisers, tend to the attainment of our common object. I confidently commend them to your patriotism and loyalty and I pray that the Almighty will give his blessing to your counsels."

Affraid of Peace. Lord Roseberry, among others, already is anticipating the results of initial victories. Speaking at Edinburgh he declared that his only fear was that when Allied successes began weak minds in the nation might cry for a premature peace. "This," he added, "would mean a short peace and a worse war to follow. Germany must be absolutely crushed."

With thousands of recruits, enlisted under the Derby group system, marching themselves throughout the country; veteran regiments that have been training for months, are making way for the raw ones. Where the veterans are going is a war-office fact, but the public is aware that they're going "somewhere." Where they'll have sterner duties. In a dozen big military camps in England, Scotland and Wales, tens of thousands of enlisted men who have been "fed" and "watered" and billeted life are reviving under the influence of the hope of "going out soon," according to reports reaching London. Troop trains often pass through

UNIQUE CHEW IS MELLOW "SPEAR HEAD"

Famous Tobacco with the Sweet, Tasty, Wholesome Relish

AN OLD-TIME FAVORITE

Chewing is the one best way to use tobacco, because it's the only way the choice leaf can get next to your tongue and give you all the benefit of the wholesome, digestive juices stored up in it by nature.

But your chew should be in plug form—the purest, most natural form into which tobacco leaf is made.

Among plug tobaccos, Spear Head, for a third of a century, has held first place as the unique chew. Its distinctive flavor is supremely delicious—a ripe, relishy flavor not found in any other tobacco made.

A luscious chew of Spear Head braces up a lazy appetite and makes you feel fresher and snappier.

Spear Head is the very best chew that money can buy. Ask your dealer for a 5c or 10c cut.

London with flatcars trailing behind carrying artillery.

These are only a few of the elements which have inspired confidence in the most doubtful war pessimist of late. Everybody admits that the war has been bungled somewhat in the past but evidently there is unanimous optimism about the future. It is a newly colored atom in the British atmosphere that a neutral cannot help but observe.

HOLY PLACES CHANGE OWING TO THE WAR

Landmarks of the Birth of Christianity Theatres During the Present War.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

London, March 2.—The care of the holy places brought on the Crimean war, with the siege of Sebastopol, the battle of Inkerman and the Charge of the Light Brigade, just as the care of these holy places, so called, had before that convulsed all Europe with the three crusades, and yet the care of these same holy places, the Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem, the place of the Nativity at Bethlehem, and the countless other landmarks off the birth of Christianity—are changing hands as an incident of the present war, and almost imperceptibly because of the noise of conflict in so many theatres of warfare.

One report is that a military shooting range has been set up on Mount Calvary, the site above all others venerated by the Christian world as the place of the crucifixion. But inquiry lists it as at the Gordon Calvary, so called, after General Gordon of Khartum fame, who designated it as what he believed to be the real site, though it is not the Calvary commonly accepted by tradition, venerated and guarded by pilgrims and the church, and contended for by European nations. The Gordon Calvary is in the outskirts of Jerusalem, some distance from the traditional site of the Holy Sepulcher.

From a military standpoint, all attention to the German-Turkish military operations in Syria has been absorbed in the steady approach southward toward Egypt and the Suez Canal, that rich prize supposed to be the link between Europe and the Orient. But while this main military object has been going on, it has involved at the same time the steady occupation of the entire Holy Land as part of the field of preparation and advance, with military forces in control at Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Nazareth and throughout the region of the holy places, and the French, Italian, English and other custodians of these sites, expelled or interned. Seven of the Italian custodians at Bethlehem, the site of the Nativity, have recently been interned by the military authorities, and their place is to be taken by Austrian custodians.

The sweep of the German-Turkish movement through the Holy Land is shown by the fact that the military railway, on which approach to Egypt depends, is believed to be constructed to the desert outskirts of Beersheba. This is the same town referred to in holy writ, and which created the Biblical phrase "from Dan to Beersheba," as it is the uttermost limit of the Holy Land, where it merges into the desert leading to Egypt. It is this biblical point, Beersheba, which is expected to be the military base, to which the railway will bring down supplies from the north, for the advance across the desert, should the attack on Egypt ever be carried out as it has been loudly heralded. So that Beersheba today is performing the same function as in biblical days—the last outpost before entering the desert, 150 miles across with an ocean of white sand and almost no water holes—none adequate for the watering of a great army. The only cavalry here must be such as is mounted on camels, with the dazzling white sand as deadly to the eyes and throats of beasts and riders as poison gas is to the men on the firing line.

Cardinal Bourne in the course of a talk with the Associated Press mentioned the solicitude felt for these sacred shrines and the gradual way their care was changing hands. He pointed out, however, that the Sultan of Turkey had in past years given guarantees for the continued Christian protection to the shrines, and while the nationality of this care might change the cardinal felt that it would still be Christian. For specific inquiries on the holy places, the cardinal's entourage referred to the commissioner for the Holy Land, a member of the Franciscan community located in the outskirts of London.

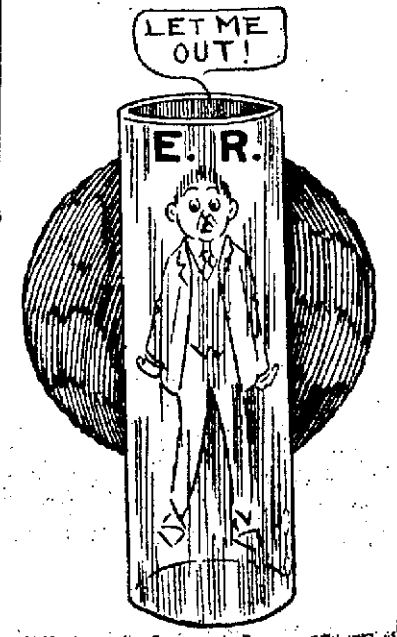

Seen at the Franciscan monastery, the commissioner, Father Albert, gave such information as had filtered through. As for a recent shooting range at Calvary he pointed out that this did not refer to the sacred spot accepted for centuries as Calvary, but to the so-called Gordon Calvary first noted by General Gordon a few years ago. After Gordon's services in China, where he became famous as "Chinese" Gordon, he spent some time in the Holy Land, and the Israeli where he was a victim of the Mahdi at Khartum before the Kitchener relief expedition arrived.

IRISH RECRUITING IS FULLY UP TO EXPECTATIONS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Dublin, March 2.—Irish recruiting is proceeding in accordance with the expectations of the military authorities. It received a great fillip from the visit to Galway of the Lord Lieutenant and John Redmond. The scenes in the Galway streets exceeded in the number of the crowds and the enthusiasm of the welcome anything previously experienced in the same city at purely Nationalist demonstrations.

The main difficulty about Irish recruiting is the reluctance of the farmers to enlist. The trouble was also found in England, and indeed in all countries the man on the farm is

A Medicine That Overcomes Most Obstinate Kidney Troubles

About 1904 I was bothered about two years with a severe attack of kidney trouble. My condition was such that I was hardly able to drag around the house and do my work. I did not have any appetite and could not rest at night and I felt more tired in the morning than I did in the evening. My doctor treated me for about one month; he said that I had kidney trouble, but he did not give me any relief. By chance one day my husband was in town and noticed Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root on a drugstore shelf and decided to bring some home for me to try; the first bottle gave such relief that I continued the use of Swamp-Root until I was rested to good health, and I have had good health for the last ten years. I cheerfully recommend Swamp-Root to others who have kidney troubles.

MINNIE DOROUGH,
Antlers, Okla.
Personally appeared before me this first day of March, 1915, Minnie Dorough, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.
Ed. Brown, Notary Public.
In and for Pushmataha County and State of Okla.

Letter to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will do for You.

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Jamesville Daily Gazette. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

Greater Volume of Business In 1915 Than Ever Before

Home Company Offers Ample Guarantee to All Its Policy Holders

The Company's 1915 new business shows a larger volume than any previous year. This demonstrates practically that this Company is able to forge ahead in a progressive, safe and sane manner, despite the somewhat unsettled conditions that existed during last year, and that might occur in the future.

It follows that the largest company of its kind, organized under the laws of the Home State, with more money invested in securities prescribed by law than the average company to cover its liabilities, furnishes ample guarantee to the over ten thousand people now marching under the banner of The Old Line Life Insurance Company of America. This naturally places it foremost among the life insurance companies in the United States in respect to a real test of strength.

The Company's past experience in conservative management, among other things, shows an average death rate, since its charter was secured, of less than 50% of the expected. The past year shows an increase in assets of 8%, in insurance in force, an increase of 22%, in the reserve, an increase of 47%, and in new business in 1915 over 1914, an increase of 10%. That it is ideally located in the middle west, and that it is one of the largest companies of its kind ever organized in the United States, when considered in connection with the foregoing figures, makes it attractive for future life, accident and health policy holders.

That its attractive line of corporation policies and new income policies is meeting with the public's approval is evidenced by the substantial volume of that class of insurance that is coming to the Company.

As on many previous occasions, this Company continues to wish its friendly competitors success for 1916.

Rupert Perry
President

THE OLD LINE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Home Office, First National Bank Building, Milwaukee, Wis.

A RECORD BREAKING INCREASE!

FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMPANY
AS OF JANUARY 1, 1916

Cash Capital, Surplus and Legal Reserve held for protection of Policy Holders,	$1,323,154.68
Assets, Dec. 31, 1915,	1,338,716.55
Insurance Paid for in 1915,	2,097,500.00
Insurance in Force, Dec. 31, 1915,	7,649,000.00
Gain in Insurance in Force, Dec. 31, 1915,	1,397,500.00

The year just passed shows not only an increase over the preceding year, but also a handsome increase over any year in the history of the company. Each department shows a most satisfactory progress. It has been the greatest year of this lusty Wisconsin company.

During 1915 the company recorded more insurance written and paid for than in any previous year in its history.

The insurance in force showed a net gain of 22% over the preceding year.

Over 10,000 people are now financially interested in the company.

Since its organization the company has paid over $120,000 to policy holders.

LIFE, ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE

THE OLD LINE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Home Office, First National Bank Building, Milwaukee, Wis.

the most reluctant fighter. There has been a good deal of argument in Ireland as to the respective contribution of Unionists and Nationalists and some bandying of names in the party newspapers of each side. But the real line of distinction is between town and country. In all parts of Ireland the townsmen have joined in large numbers in proportion to the population. In no part of Ireland have the farmers done anything like so well.

Lord Wimborne noted that at least twenty Irish towns claim to be at the top of the list in the proportion of men recruiting and that Ballina challenges Belfast. In some small towns the average has been higher than in England. Mr. Redmond did not mince his words in his appeal to the farmers to go to the war. He believed that they would have most to gain from a defeat in the war, and he told them that if they would have most to gain from a defeat in the war, and he told them that if they would not fight for their land and left the townsmen to do the fighting for them their position was contemptible. There has been much improvement in the way of approaching the people with recruiting appeals and so far the result has been admirably satisfactory. But eleven hundred men a week at least are wanted and the effort to keep up the supply will be steadily maintained.

Y. M. C. A. EVERYWHERE IN EUROPEAN WAR ZONE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Boulogne, March 2.—The inverted triangle symbol of the Young Men's Christian Association is one of the most familiar sights in Northern France. The Association is everywhere in the war zone. Its workers speed about in small cars and its wagons carry stores from one town to another. Its huts increase every month; and in some places it work is now being extended by small depots in remote villages, where the men are in the charge of a non-commissioned British officer, and opened for a few hours each day.

The regular "huts" of the Association are great roomy one-story buildings that hold from four to five hundred men, with kitchens and living rooms for the workers. The principal business carried on therein is a sort of simplified army canteen selling at low prices those articles which are in universal demand, such as cruet buttons, cigarettes, cakes and tea.

At one hut a few miles from Boulogne the daily turnover from this class of trade is $2,000 a day, mostly in amounts of two to four cents. There are also books and papers, tables for writing letters, billiards and various kinds of instruction. Men often gather in large numbers to hear a lecture on the history and architecture of the town; French classes and Bible classes jostle with moving picture shows and concerts.

A. D. PARKER RESIGNS HIS RAILROAD POSITION; HAS HAD NOVEL CAREER

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Denver, Colo., March 2.—A. D. Parker retired as vice-president of the Colorado and Southern Railroad today, ending an active railroad career that began 33 years ago as a section hand. He also relinquished duties as president of the system's subsidiary lines in Texas. Mr. Parker was succeeded by E. S. Koller who came to Denver from Omaha, March 1, 1915, to become general manager of the Colorado and Southern.

Throughout his active career Mr. Parker has been closely identified with the development of railroad business in the Rocky Mountain region. He was the son of an Episcopalian clergyman and was born at Wilmington, Del., July 28, 1858. After receiving degrees at Racine college, Racine, Wis., and the general Theological seminary in New York, he came to Wyoming, where he rode the range as a "cowpuncher" for two years.

In 1883 he began his railroad career as a section hand with the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. He next went to the road's store department, thence to the auditor's office and in 1893 he became auditor of the old Denver, Union Pacific and Gulf railroad, and the Denver, Leadville and Gunnison lines. Upon the organization of the Colorado and Southern system in 1899 he became auditor.

In 1906 Mr. Parker was made vice-president in charge of all departments, this position carrying with it the presidency of the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Wichita Valley railways, subsidiary lines in Texas. When the Colorado and Southern was taken over by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy in 1910, Parker continued as vice-president. His decision to retire, announced in New York, Jan. 28, was due to a desire of long standing to quit active railroad work. Mr. Parker will make his future home in Philadelphia.

Bay Rum. Bay rum is manufactured from the dried leaves of Pimento acris. Bay rum is procured by distillation, and this in a very simple manner. The leaves are picked from the trees and then dried. In this state they are placed in the retort, which is then filled with water, and the process of distillation is carried on. The vapor is then condensed in the usual way and forms what is known as "bay oil," a very small quantity of which is required for each puncheon of rum.

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

Members of Associated Press.
Member of Associated Press.
Member of Associated Press.
Member of Associated Press.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Partly cloudy and somewhat colder tonight.BY CARRIER
One Year $3.00
Six Months $1.50
Three Months .75
By Mail, Cash in Advance
One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.00
Three Months $1.00
CASH, C.O.D. IN ROCK COUNTY.
One Year $3.00

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In sending change of address for your paper, please be sure to give the present address as well as the new one. This will insure better and quicker service.

GASSETT PRINTING CO.

The publication of obituary notices, Resolutions, Cards of Thanks, etc., can be made at the lowest possible rate. Every effort will be made to secure the best quality of work in the character and reliability of the advertisement and the truth of the representation made.

The Gazette does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every effort will be made to secure the best quality of work in the character and reliability of the advertisement and the truth of the representation made.

The Gazette will confer a favor if they will promptly report any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in a Gazette advertisement.

GAME CONSERVATION.

Conservation of the state game and obedience to the state laws, are the two cardinal principles of the various Rod and Gun clubs throughout the state.

The three hundred odd men who sat down to the banquet tables at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, the majority of them sportsmen in the true sense of the word, members of the Rock County Rod and Gun club and their invited guests typified the new era that has come to stay—that of conservation of the game and song birds and the fish and wild game of Wisconsin.

Governor Philipp in his address to the audience showed a keen appreciation of the needs of the state as regards conservation and his talk on the question of the game laws, the use of the funds accruing from the sale of licenses, was in accord with the later suggestions of conservation by Commissioner W. E. Barber and Prof. George Wagner of the state university.

With all his other acquirements Governor Philipp is a keen sportsman, enjoying hunting and fishing, and he talks from personal knowledge.

It was a great thing and one which will be productive of much good in the future. Conservation of our birds and beasts, except those that are a menace to the agriculturalists, is a question that can not be taken up too soon and strictly enforced.

The divorcing of the game warden's department from politics is one of the greatest steps in this direction and is a direct assurance to the sportsmen that their interests are being conserved.

The Rock County Rod and Gun club deserves the support of the community as a whole. Its membership list should be swelled by even those who are not actual hunters and fishers as they represent a cause that is vital to the whole country. It is to be hoped that the gathering last evening will present an impetus to future development along the lines laid down.

NOT PRACTICAL.

Germany could not have asked the United States to agree to a more reckless and impractical plan than that proposed in the case of submarines and armed merchantmen. This statement was made by one of the ablest lawyer members of the foreign relations committee. "Congress might well pass a law declaring that it was not murder to shoot a man shot any other man was killed. How is a submarine commander to determine if a merchant ship is armed and that he is thus warranted in sinking her without warning, if he neither declares his presence nor boards her to ascertain? Many a man has been shot because during a quarrel he inadvertently reached for his hip-pocket, even though he was not armed. Suppose a submarine commander sees something on the deck of a merchant vessel which he mistakes for a gun. Under the German plan he would sink the ship first and investigate afterwards. Of course, the gravity of the situation grows out of the criminal folly of the Wilson administration in proposing such a ridiculous scheme to the allies and thus encouraging Germany to believe that this government would approve it. And there is no doubt that the administration purposed to approve the plan and would have done so had it not been for Mr. Root's masterly speech, and Senator Sterling's resolution. The only safe policy and the only neutral policy for the United States to pursue is to adhere strictly to international law and not refuse to listen to any proposal to modify it during war. Every time we deviate from that course we get into trouble. The only real danger of the United States is against the desperate desire of President Wilson to recoup his political fortunes by some brilliant diplomatic achievement, and in trying to do that he is as dangerous as a child trying to make fire-works out of nitro-glycerine."

THE FREE SEEDS.

About this time look out for your little envelope from your congressman. You will soon get your usual allotment of bean and pea and dahlia and pansy seeds. These of course are distributed purely for scientific progress. The government sends them for purposes of experiment. It can't tell how to proceed with agricultural development, until it has tried its scarlet beans in your front yard.

There is not probably a case in 10,000 where the government receives any valuable return information as to how its seeds flourish. A private business wishing to try out its seeds would of course plant them side by side in experimental plots where the results can be compared. It is never possible to find the value of them by sending one package to a man in Maine and another to Arkansas, and trusting the recipients to report.

As everyone knows, the real reason for the seed distribution is quite different. The congressmen long ago discovered that constituents were pleased by this little mark of attention. It made them feel that they were men of consequence in their district, who were being looked after and consulted. This is an asset to any politician.

Of course the congressmen are not the only ones to blame for this waste. "Like people, like priest." If voters were not so easily flattered, Congressmen would not try to cajole them by frivolous means. If the citizens would read the newspapers, take pains to find out how their congressmen vote, and whether they attend sessions and committee meetings, the congressmen would place their reliance wholly on substantial service, and would omit empty compliments. Many congressmen are already trying to reduce this wasteful charge by sending seeds only to those who ask for them.

Congress is wasting lots of precious time arguing over matters that they could settle almost off-hand if they were not so almighty afraid their constituents would not think they did not earn their salary if they did not put up a fight on something or other.

Now for the rest room in the library that the generous donation of the All Souls' society made possible. It is a move in the right direction and one which should not be overlooked in accounting the advancement accomplished in the city.

No time like the present to plan that garden you mean to make this coming spring, and the vegetables that you plan to grow to help out the pocketbook you complain is becoming thinner and thinner.

It is hopeless to try to work the gold brick game on the farmers now, but the city people still think that vegetables like the seed catalog cuts can be made to grow in their back yards.

Now that all the candidates for the job of commissioner are in the open the voter can scan the list and take his pick. There is a goodly array and plenty of chance for a selection.

Who says Janesville does not want any more factories? Certainly not the working men who live here and have responded so nobly to the plan to bring a new factory here?

A year or two ago people began to put the beef bone in the safe to secure it against thieves, but it looks this spring as if the room would be taken by the gasoline can.

It will soon be time to start boosting for the Janesville fair which will be bigger, better, grander and more elaborate than ever if the advance notices can be believed.

The way things are going on the metropolitan newspapers, it looks as if the political editor got a promotion when he is appointed baseball reporter.

It is claimed the Armenians will be just as badly off under the Russians, but anyway it will be a welcome change to have a new set of murderers.

Many kind-hearted people feed the birds during the winter, which makes them much better eating for the cats than these same people keep.

Where, oh where, is that mad March Hare who beat so much about? We know the ground hog was right, but what about the Hare?

On the Spur of the Moment

ROY K. MOULTON

Faithful.

You may dine on raw onions,

Consume lemon peel

And coughdrops and peanuts

You may make a meal.

You may shampoo your head and Use hair oil that's stout,

And bathe till you're too weak

To amble about.

You may rub on strong perfumes

And change your attire.

Right into all your old clothes

And throw them in the fire.

You can stand in the wind at

The top of Pike's Peak,

And let the winds whistle

Pure for you a week.

You may force your throat with Pure formyldehyde,

And may take any other

Precaution beside.

You may try every treatment

And do what you please in a

Vessel which he mistakes for a gun.

Under the German plan he would sink the ship first and investigate afterwards.

Of course, the gravity of the situation grows out of the criminal folly of the Wilson administration in proposing such a ridiculous scheme to the allies and thus encouraging Germany to believe that this government would approve it.

And there is no doubt that the administration purposed to approve the plan and would have done so had it not been for Mr. Root's masterly speech, and Senator Sterling's resolution. The only safe policy and the only neutral policy for the United States to pursue is to adhere strictly to international law and not refuse to listen to any proposal to modify it during war.

Every time we deviate from that course we get into trouble. The only real danger of the United States is against the desperate desire of President Wilson to recoup his political fortunes by some brilliant diplomatic achievement, and in trying to do that he is as dangerous as a child trying to make fire-works out of nitro-glycerine."

The Hickeyville Clarion.

T. Egbert Peterson, of Beau Brummel of our midst, has accepted a lucrative position as night clerk in a hotel down to the city, and it must be a farm place to work as he says he has to rise over the register all the time, and his mother is afraid T. Egbert has to keep track of what time the 9:17 trains leave every day and also the best places in the town where the rats are.

Egbert says a well-known actress spoke to him the other evening. She said: "Why in thunder didn't you send that ice water up to your room, you red-headed little galoot, you?" Egbert expects to get acquainted in the theatrical profession quite rapid.

Elmer Jones says travelin' around the country is a good way to get a great way to learn things. He has already learned that every family has got one.

F. Tibbs, who plays the drum in the silver cornet band, has caught a dreadful cold, which may develop into a gripple. The bungle in the base drum is right under his face when he has the drum strapped on, and every time he hits her snash with the drumstick the wind shoots out'n the vent and hits him like a tornado. When he plays fast music it is just like standin' a steady draft. He is going to hook the drum on different after this, so the wind will hit the feller that is marchin' ahead of him.

Just the Same.

They may turn the rascals out and may put new rascals in.

But the cost of living rises just the same.

They can monkey with the tariff from here to the other side of the tin.

But the cost of living rises just the same.

They can jail the malefactors of great wealth for money lust.

They can jail the ways of Wall street and dissolve most every trust.

They can shout for equal liberty and rights until they bust.

But the cost of living rises just the same.

The statesman can get busy, wave the old flag and orate.

But the cost of living rises just the same.

They may threaten, they may buster, they may scorch and paw the air.

They may plead and they may grovel and in madness tear their hair.

They may tell of real conditions and the awful state of the bare.

But the cost of living rises just the same.

The Daily Novelette

An Inking.

What's in a name? Enough! Enough! It costs this man receptions—tough.

Everybody in Townsburg agreed that whatever the new postmaster lacked, he had plenty of dignity.

Promptly at the usual time of half-past nine on the morning of the new postmaster's first day in office, Mike Howe tied his gasoline runabout to the town pump and strolled in for his mail.

Looking the new postmaster over while the new postmaster was doing as much for him, Mike asked, "Any mail for Mike Howe?"

The new postmaster frowned and resumed his reading of postal cards.

"I say," repeated Mike somewhat louder, "any mail for Mike Howe?"

The new postmaster looked at him and he didn't like his manner, and slipped Zeb Toole's city newspaper out of his wrapper to look over the news.

"I say," yelled Mike, "Ha ye got any mail for Mike Howe?"

Without losing a iota of his dignity, the new postmaster gravely laid Mike low with the government instead.

"I'll teach him to strut in here askin' fer mail for his cow!" he muttered.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, March 2.—A western cattle buyer has been in the market the past few days buying sixty head of young Holstein cows to be shipped to Nebraska. The cattle were housed at the feed yards and were of good size and bled well.

The shipment presented a good appearance, being light marked and of about uniform size.

Thirty cars of western sheep are ahead in the shipment and are for the feed yards last evening.

There are about 9,000 head in the shipment and are for the Chicago market.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Condon called on relatives at Milton Junction yesterday.

Henry Ebbott and Antoine Nelson went to Janesville yesterday where Mr. Nelson secured his naturalization papers.

Mrs. R. S. Pease went to Janesville yesterday to spend the day with her sister, who is recovering from an operation at the Mercy hospital.

Clarence Swinson and Oscar Hanson were business callers at the Bowler Club yesterday.

Miss Emma Lord departed for Milwaukee yesterday, where she will spend the week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Tallard.

Mrs. George Chead has gone to Whitewater to spend a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Brockway.

Herzog had the misfortune to slip on the sidewalk yesterday and sprain his ankle.

Mrs. J. J. Leary spent the day yesterday with relatives at Madison.

Mrs. W. Coon left yesterday afternoon to visit at the home of her daughters at Yakima, Washington, and Paonia, Colorado. She will visit at other points of interest in the west.

Mrs. George Chead has been visiting friends in the city, returned to Schleiserville, Wis. today.

O. A. Cole, who resided on a farm north of the city is moving his household effects to a family to Beloit, where he will make his home.

Martin Bloom of Stoughton, is a business caller in the city today.

The Ladies' Missionary society will meet at the parlors of the Congregational church Friday evening.

Miss Brandt, Mrs. J. Henderson will lead the meeting. A large attendance is directed.

Will Doty has been at London the past few days receiving tobacco.

Mrs. L. Gilbertson of Beloit removed her household effects to Edgerton yesterday and will make her future home in the city.

Mrs. Will McIntosh called on Janesville friends yesterday.

P. N. Grubb is a business caller at Janesville today.

There were quite a few Edgerton sportsmen who attended the Edgerton Gun club banquet, held at Janesville last evening. Gov. Philipp and Hon. L. Wattet were guests of honor.

Those who came from Edgerton reported this morning that they spent a most pleasant evening.

The preliminary hearing of Carl Stucky and A. Sundby, charged with being outlaws, at that of the Spring Fred Campbell, Paul Newman, Frank Hinkle and the Ratzlaff brothers were in Janesville today to testify at the hearing.

Dr. Morrison and I. W. Wentworth went to Waukesha this morning where the latter will submit to treatment at a sanitarium.

Mrs. W. J. Jackson and daughter, Miss Minerva of Boulder, Colo., are guests of relatives in the city for a few days.

W. G. Atwell is a business caller at Edgerton today.

Court Strickland left for Milwaukee for a short business trip this morning.

ONE OF LIVING DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION TO HONOR HER 87TH BIRTHDAY SOON

(Special to the Gazette)

Fort Worth, Tex., March 2.—Mrs. Mary Jane Skidmore of Fort Worth, who according to all information available, is one of three living daughters of the American revolution, will celebrate her eighty-seventh birthday on June 27 of this year.

To commemorate the event, the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is seeking to have the national chapter decree appropriate exercises for that day.

Mrs. Skidmore was born near Cincinnati, O., the daughter of Jonas Francis, who served three years under Washington, and who heard the Liberty Bell ring in Philadelphia. She retains a vivid recollection of her father, who was frequently sought to recount before public meetings stories of the continental army, its battles, and the Liberty Bell.

Perfect Harmony

must exist in the digestive system in order to get the best value from your food. When the stomach lacks tone or strength, try a bottle of

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters

We Save You Dollars and Cents.

Bite Into This

The crisp thick chocolate coating covers a delicious cream that melts in your mouth. Try

Ganz-Durler Chocolates

It will give you a new idea of what a real confection can be. Pure and wholesome. Tantalizing flavors. Get a box today. In 50c, 60c, 80c and $1 boxes.

Made by

Ganz-Durler Candy Co.

Oshkosh

On sale at

DEDRICK BROS.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Margaret Powers of South Jackson street entertained the young ladies that comprise the Beta Gamma Sigma society on Wednesday afternoon. Refreshments were served at five o'clock.

J. P. Johnson of Milwaukee, is a business visitor in town today.

Miss Della Randall of Bryan, Ohio, who has been spending several days in town, and who was a bridesmaid at the Garbutt-Yahn wedding, went to Madison today for a few days' visit. She will return to Janesville next week for a visit with friends.

The Social club of Triumph Camp, R. N., met at the Celestion rooms on Wednesday afternoon, where they gave a card party. Five hundred was played. The prize was won by Mrs. H. T. Kaufman. A committee of ten ladies, with Mrs. J. A. Nehean as chairman, had it in charge. The ladies served refreshments at four o'clock.

Mrs. John Aldrich of Pearl street, is spending the day with friends in Sharon.

Miss Mable Greenman of South Main street, entertained a two table club this afternoon, following a luncheon at the Y. M. C. A.

The Pansy Sunshine club met on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock with Mrs. Smith of 431 North Madison street. Twelve ladies were present, who brought their own sewing. A social afternoon was enjoyed. At five o'clock a picnic supper was served.

F. F. Bauer of Madison, Wis., is spending the day in town on business.

Miss Lillie Zabel, 502 South Pearl street, was very pleasantly surprised last evening by twenty of her girl friends, who had come to help her celebrate her birthday. They brought with them several beautiful gifts. Cards and dancing filled the evening and at ten o'clock a three course supper was served. The affair was much enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Thomas Wallis of East Milwaukee street, has returned from a visit of several days with friends in Madison.

Charles Pierce of Beloit, is spending the day in Janesville with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ross of Ladd, Ill., are spending the day in this city on business.

Mrs. E. J. Timney of Madison street, is the guest of friends in Delavan, Wis. today.

Mrs. Peter Myers of Oakland avenue will entertain on Saturday afternoon the ladies who are members of a bridge club. They will meet at half after two.

Miss Grace Thurman of Evansville, was the guest of Janesville friends this week.

Mrs. William Hall of Locust street, was hostess to a card club this afternoon. Bridge whist was played and at four o'clock light refreshments were served.

H. Hazen of Chicago, who came to attend the Garbutt-Yahn wedding, returned to Chicago today.

J. A. A. Stephens of Milwaukee, was a business caller in this city on Wednesday.

Maurice Price, after a Brodhead visit of a few days, has returned to this city.

Miss Constance Eoblin has returned home after spending a week at the home of her aunt in Clinton, Wis.

Mrs. A. E. Stephens of Brodhead, was a Janesville visitor with friends this week.

Miss Frances Granger of North Jackson street, spent Tuesday with friends in Edgerton.

Mrs. Peter Granger entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Norwegian Lutheran church in the church parlors this afternoon.

Study class met this afternoon with Mrs. Fred Howe, 220 South Third street. It was Travelers' Day. There were travelogues given by Mrs. H. Garbutt, Mrs. C. V. Korch, Mrs. Munger, Mrs. Butts and Miss S. Hutchinson. William Tallman and Mrs. Turnstead assisted in entertaining.

Mrs. LeRoy Meyers of Brodhead, was the guest of friends in this city this week.

To Fortify The System Against Grip.

When Grip is prevalent LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE should be taken, as this combination of Quinine with other ingredients, destroys germs, acts as a tonic and Laxative and thus keeps the system in condition to withstand Colds, Grip and Influenza. There is only one signature on box. 25c.

81-IN. BLEACHED SHEETING.

30c value, requires 2 1/2 yards for one sheet, per yard at . . . 25c

1000 yards of Light or Dark Calicoes, special per yard at . . . 6c

WOMEN'S "R. & G." CORSETS, a $2.00 value, marked in all sizes in this sale, each . . . $1.29

WOMEN'S FIBRE SILK HOSE all shades and all sizes, 50c values on sale at per pair . . . 43c

Big showing of the New Spring Coats and Suits in our coat section.

T. P. BURNS CO.

We Save You Dollars and Cents.

The Birthday Club met on Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Rexford in Sinclair street. Bridge whist was played at five tables, at which the prizes were won by Mrs. M. E. Sloan and R. M. Bostwick. A dinner was served at seven o'clock.

Mrs. W. T. Dooley of 110 South Academy street, entertained a card club this afternoon at half after two. After the game a supper was served by the hostess.

Russell Reynolds of Dundee, Mich., who was best man at the Garbutt-Yahn wedding, returned home today.

Mrs. I. W. Fairfield and son, Eugene, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Fairfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Berger of 1027 South Cherry street. Their home is in Sullivan, Wis.

Miss G. M. Brace of 212 Madison street, went to Chicago today. She will spend several days in this city.

Mrs. Mary Hardwick of Edgerton is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Little, of 1516 Pleasant street.

Mrs. James H. Ivan returned last evening from Chicago, where they were over Sunday visitors.

Rev. O. J. Kvale of Orfordville will give his lecture on Joseph at the Norwegian Lutheran church this evening at 7:45. The public is cordially invited.

T. D. Woolsey of Beloit in the city today.

Ever Notice It?

Most great men do not look the part; You'll notice every day That when a man is very smart He never acts that way.

Read and use the want ads. They are sure winners.

MRS. HATTIE KING IS INJURED BY HARD FALL

Mrs. Hattie King, an aged lady, residing at 310 North Madison street, was severely bruised by a fall on the sidewalk at the corner of Jackson and West Milwaukee street late Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. King was going up the street into a store when she slipped and fell. She will be confined to her home for some time, but fortunately, her injuries were not as serious as was at first anticipated.

Who Believes in Signs?

In front of one of the film theaters this week there was a sign advertising the show: "THE WOMAN PAYS."

But we noticed that the men had to buy the tickets. Didn't see a woman dig up a cent. Ho-hum! Always thus, Clarice.

The Beri French Olive Oil costs no more than the ordinary.

Why not get the best when you're buying Olive Oil? A trial of a small bottle will convince you. Ask for our book of Salads. In bottles, 10c, 25c, 50c and 85c.

In cans, 30c, 60c, $1.00 and $3.75.

SMITH'S PHARMACY

The Rexall Store

Kodaks and Kodak Supplies

Rehberg's

New Spring Hats

The leading shades of Graphite and Green, $2.00, $3.00, $3.50 to $5.

Your money back if a $1.00 box of

Dr. Weld's Grippe Remedy

fails to cure your grippe in 12 hours. All druggists.

Travel Goods

This store is well equipped to supply the traveler's needs in the way of luggage.

Leather lined, all Leather Haul Bags from $3.50 to $15.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY? YES.

Literally hundreds and hundreds of people have voluntarily told me that I did not hurt them a bit in extracting their sore teeth.

I can guarantee you immunity from Pain.

Talk to me about your Dentistry.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

Dentist.

(Over Rehberg's.)

All work fully guaranteed.

Deposits Made In Our Savings Department

During the first ten days of March will be credited with interest from March 1st at 3% per annum.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Established 1855.

The Bank with the "Efficient Service."

LET YOUR WIFE HAVE A CHECKING ACCOUNT

By paying all of her household bills by check she will be able to put her financial affairs on a strictly business basis, and a considerable amount of money can be saved by always having the cancelled checks as receipts.

MERCHANTS AND SAVINGS BANK

The Oldest Savings Bank in Rock County.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FANCY PATENT FLOUR Friday and Saturday, $1.50 per sack, delivered. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed. Both phones. S. M. Jacobs, 13-3-2-1.

WANTED—A good boy at J. M. B. & Sons, 5-3-3-31.

W. WELSH, Expert Shoe Repairing, Main St. Price List: ladies' heels, 20c; men's heels, 25c; men's sewed soles, 75c; ladies' sewed soles, 60c; men's nailed soles, 65c; ladies' nailed soles, 40c; boys' nailed soles, 40c; misses' nailed soles, 35c. 27-3-1-1.

CHIROPRACTOR E. H. Damrow, D. C.

The only Palmer School Graduate in Janesville, Wis. If you are sick, here is the place to get well. Examination FREE. Calls made anywhere at any time. Office 405 Jackson Bldg. Both phones 970. Res. phone, R. C. 1-8-5-1. I have one of the 2" pinpointing X-Ray machines in Wisconsin.

PARCEL DELIVERY

E. J. Bennett who has worked for the Express Companies for over 30 years has entered into Parcel delivery and light draying. He solicits the patronage of his friends. Assures prompt service and reasonable prices. Office with Wells Fargo Co. Phone 277. Bell phone 535. Residence 326 Park Ave. Bell phone 694.

The Woman's Mission Circle of the Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon, March 3rd, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Bowles, 332 North Jackson street, at 2:30 p. m. Leader, Mrs. C. E. Bowles. Address on China by Mrs. J. S. Taylor. All women of the church invited. The garment League please bring their offerings.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Christian church gave a Leap Year box social at the home of the minister, Clark Walker Cummings. There were twenty-five present. The young people of the Endeavor society are to be congratulated on the good work they are doing.

NOTICE OF MEETING.

A meeting of the members of the Janesville Golf Club will be held at the office of the Gazette Printing Company March 10th, 1916, at 7:30 o'clock, P. M. for the purpose of considering a proposition received from the directors of the Janesville Country Club and the disposition of same, and for such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

ARTHUR P. BURHAM, Pres., C. H. GAGE, Secretary.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION. The firm of Albrecht & Rohrer was dissolved by mutual consent February 11th and I have assumed charge of the entire business.

F. A. ALBRECHT.

NOTICE. Macquarrie hall by W. C. at West Side Odd Fellows hall March 3rd. Six piece orchestra. Admission, 25c. Two prizes given.

The St. Patrick's church choir will sing, March 3rd, Ladies and Gentlemen cordially invited. Lunch will be served.

SPORTSMEN CAN AID STATE TO CONSERVE ITS SUPPLY OF GAME

CO-OPERATION NECESSARY. DE CLARE SPEAKERS AT BIG BANQUET OF ROD AND GUN CLUB.

GOV. PHILIPP PRESENT

State Executive, Prof. Wagner and W. E. Barber of Conservation Board Talk—Phillip Tells of Rosenberg Appointment.

That the conservation of Wisconsin's supply of fish and game can be best accomplished through the active and sincere co-operation of the sportsmen of the state was the important idea emphasized last evening at the first annual banquet of the Rock County Rod and Gun Club at the Elks Club. The banquet was held at the Elks Club, a building of modern reforms in the game laws and the methods of coping with game problems were outlined and discussed by the speakers, but all agreed that legislation and game propagation are valueless unless the spirit of conservation was instilled into the great mass of "Badger" sportsmen and hunters so as to secure the hearty support to the cause of replenishing Wisconsin lakes and streams, fields and forests, with wild life.

Three Hundred Attend. There were three hundred members of the club from all parts of Rock county present at the banquet which was a delicious treat. Credit for the entire success of the banquet and for the presence of the distinguished guests of the evening is due to the committee of the club composed of F. E. Green, president of the organization, H. W. McNamara, Will Taylor, J. F. Wortendyke and W. E. Barber. The four course dinner, which included turtle soup, pike and roast venison, was prepared under the direction of Mr. Quirk and served in excellent style by the waiters and men: Roy Hunt, Paul Richards, Walter Green, Roy Newton, Theodore Davey, Stanley Ryan, George Vince, Thomas J. Denning, Harry Cushing, Luther Mills, George Platt, Nevada McCarthy, William Bennett, Carroll Coon, Robert Kenning and Mr. Keck. The tables were tastefully decorated with bouquets of wild phlox.

Judge C. L. Fifield, the toastmaster of the evening was introduced by F. E. Green, president of the club. In a pleasing manner and with clever jest, Judge Fifield introduced the speaker, Governor E. L. Philipp being the first to give an address.

With the exception of Governor Philipp all of the speakers confined their remarks to matters relative to fish and game conservation. The governor had his message in this regard also, which was one of the highlights of the evening. He explained, however, that he had been especially asked to tell his reasons for appointing M. E. Rosenberg to Vaucluse to the state supreme bench to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Barnes, which he did without hesitation or apology.

Tells of Appointment. "I have been asked to explain, to this assembly, why M. E. Rosenberg was appointed to the supreme bench, and why Attorney General Owen objected," said Gov. Philipp. "I am willing to do so. There is no secret about it. On February 1st, or thereabouts, Justice Barnes came to me and announced his intentions of resigning. He handed me his written resignation on February 9th to take effect on the 22nd. It was necessary for me to select a successor to be exercised in appointing his successor for the reason that two justices were then off the bench on account of illness and with the resignation of Justice Barnes, the court would remain to transact the business of the court."

Justice Barnes came from the northernmost part of the state, and it is the custom to take into consideration the geographical representation in appointing new justices. I discussed possible candidates available from that region with my friends, and in position to know something about the best qualified men. I have known Mr. Rosenberg for a number of years and I know him to be a man of high character and integrity, and a true Wisconsin man well equipped for the position in every way. I appointed Mr. Rosenberg and I am glad of it. Time will prove the correctness and the wisdom of my appointment."

Owen "Slops Over." "Then the attorney general 'slopped over' and gave voice to the claim that the appointment was made to relieve a vice of an embarrassing social situation. I do not know of it. I am not a candidate for the United States senate. That Mr. Kreutzer, Mr. Rosenberg's partner in the law business, was a candidate for the senate, I do not know. It was my duty to secure the best man for the place within my wisdom, and I was anxious to secure a young, able man who can give service to Wisconsin."

That was my only motive in appointing Mr. Rosenberg. There was no other motive. The attorney general or any other man knows of no other motive, and it is not for me to ascribe the motive. I would not have apprised him of it in any case. In the last analysis it was for me to determine whom to appoint, and the attorney general or any other state officer criticise a court.

"If it had been my privilege to name him who had the right to judge the quick and the dead, and had he not been a progressive, I would have been criticised."

"The first gun I ever owned was an old army musket," said Governor Philipp, "with a terrible offset, which used to come back with a powerful effect upon my face. I worked two weeks to get that gun. Besides it, I got more game with it than the modern hunter with his expensive weapons. It was so because game at that time was hard to come by. There were clouds of pigeons, numberless quail and ducks. They have disappeared now. We have a depletion of game within a man's lifetime. The day has come when sensible men know that we must protect and conserve our wild life."

"It is our moral duty to do so, for no man has no right to exterminate game and deny others the pleasures of the hunt. Improved firearms and lack of protection for the sportsman have caused our supply until it verges on exhaustion unless we become conservative. Game has no chance against the modern munitions of today."

"I compliment you on the spirit and success of this club for I know you men have the spirit of conservation, that the law is observed where men are interested. The game of the state is to preserve game but there can be no success unless the people are in sympathy with upholding and enforcing the laws."

"The last legislature created a commission of conservation including the fish, game, park and forestry departments. They belong together, having kindred interests, and the plan has worked out splendidly. The work has been done at a reduced cost. The time is certain to come when the state will set aside land where game will be propagated safe from the hunter. Governor Philipp endorsed the view of the sportsmen of the state that all money that is taken from them in license fees and fines should belong to the sportsmen. "License money now goes into the general fund for general state work," he said, "but I hope to interest the legislature at their next session, whether I am governor or not, to retain the money for the fund, that all money above expenses will be used to create game preserves. The fish situation is not so serious as they can be easily propagated. We must, however, limit our catches and keep the nets out of the water." Heavy applause rewarded this suggestion as the demand that nets be taken out of streams in this county has been most insistent.

"There is need of changes in our game laws but it is difficult to fit the circumstances. I believe that all game should be left to the commission of conservation. When you can take fish and game with the least danger of extinction, and this can be done by fixed legislation. It would have been the duty of the commission been empowered to declare a closed season last year on prairie chickens and other native birds, because the wet weather was disastrous and the young were closing I will repeat that we have reached a point where a body of men must watch the supply and regulate the privileges of taking our game with reference to the sportsman up your club, use it for the benefit of the wild life. The law will permit you to have what you ought to have, you must save the balance for another day."

Professor George Wagner, of the Wisconsin University, was the next speaker. "There is no bounty on the sportsman of Wisconsin," he said, "but there is no closed season on his opening remark. Professor Wagner endorsed the Governor's view of having game legislation determined by the commission of conservation. States has few lessons to learn from European countries was made plain by the speaker, who has made an extensive study of game and hunting in both Europe and the United States. His experience in the "old country" was that hunting and fishing was a sport confined only to the royalty and the rich. Under their protective system the real sport of hunting and fishing was eliminated. The sportsman's chase was eliminated. The sportsman's ship of the parks and game has taken out the pleasure since the game was tame and the animals are allowed to be exterminated because even the farmer has not the right to drive a deer and game off his harvest fields. It was stated that a hunter in most cases could not carry away game that he had killed. The sportsman's upland shooting was about as interesting in European states as going out into a farmer's back yard and shooting at his chickens."

"We must take cognizance of the changing conditions in the country where game is protected is becoming settled and therefore the wild life has less protection," said Professor Wagner. "With our modern weapons, capable of firing continuously, the execution is increased. The automobile has added to the seriousness of the problem in that more hunters are able to cover the sport in a shorter space of time and are able to drive to where the native places of the animals and fowls."

Stop the Foreigner. That the foreigner, especially the Italian, must be educated against the fatal practice of reckless slaying and shooting of even song birds, as was their right in their native land, was another view of Professor Wagner. "What can we do to get back to where we were? Keep what you have and not run below and be satisfied with small bags. We must provide something for the school boy, a game for youth to satisfy his craving for a gun and shooting for nearly every red blooded man, or boy has this desire. Trap shooting should be encouraged and I believe that every community should have a rifle range. The feeling of preparedness should be stimulated to a high extent."

The fact that the sportsman must stand behind the game warden and that Wisconsin has the best men concerned in the protection of game laws, was another contention of the speaker. A system of state police to enforce state as well as game laws, was advocated to eliminate local failure to enforce laws that do not meet with instant approval.

Defends Buck Law. W. E. Barber, member of the conservation commission, explained the state work and made his main plea in defense of the one buck law. He declared that the law passed over a year ago and effective for the third season last year, was logical for the reasons that more deer were killed and the deer were better protected, being given a chance to breed. There has also resulted a considerable decrease in hunting accidents. It was noted by Barber that politics had been taken out of the game department at the demand of the governor and more effective work was the result. The old stigma against the game warden had at last been wiped out and the new warden, better designated as conservation warden, now receiving the backing and support of the sportsmen throughout the state.

Mr. Barber told of the experience of other states with game farms for the propagation of rare-necked pheasants and other wild birds. He favored some similar plan of propagation on the state parks, of which there are four under the supervision of the conservation commission. He pointed out the fact that there are 140,000 acres of uncultivated land in Wisconsin and maintained that such was sufficient to raise and produce satisfactory amount of wild life.

William C. White, speaker of the assembly, and "Conservation Warden" William E. Mason, gave short addresses which closed the evening's program.

TWO BASKETBALL CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY MORNING

Two games are scheduled to be played at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the graded school basketball league. In the first game the St. Patrick's team will play the Grant school five. The second contest will be between the Lincoln and Adams schools. These two dives belong to the second league.

Mrs. G. Schwartz, mother of Mrs. E. Haskins of Milwaukee avenue, has returned from a four weeks' visit at points in the East.

Mrs. E. Haskins of Milwaukee avenue is recovering from a slight operation at the Mercy hospital.

Bible Club Meeting: The Algonquin Bible club of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a "kitchen" supper tonight at 5:30 o'clock.

Dr. E. A. Billig has taken over the dental practice of the late Dr. Michaelis. Dr. Billig will be glad to take care of all former patients as well as any new ones who wish to avail themselves of his twenty years' experience.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ashley of Erie, Pa., arrived today to visit their son, R. E. Ashley, and family. While here they will celebrate their 39th wedding anniversary.

Rice Lake plays here Saturday.

FRANK SUTHERLAND IS KILLED IN FALL DOWN STAIR FLIGHT

Turn at Top Thought to Have Been Cause of Fatal Accident to Well Known Young Man.

Frank A. Sutherland, 35 years of age, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland of 211 Dodge street died instantly shortly after 11 o'clock last night when he broke his neck in a fall backward and down a flight of stairs in his home. Physicians summoned immediately stated that death had been instantaneous.

Mr. Sutherland arrived home about 11 o'clock. The stair approach is in a short hall and opens directly to the Dodge street entrance of the residence. He had ascended the stairs and was at the top of the flight or just about there when he fell backward and down the stairs. His father, when he fell heavily against the wall and then backwards. Mr. Sutherland was in the room adjoining the front hall when he heard his son's fall. Running forward he found his head resting on the floor with the shoulders and remainder of the body stretched upward on the stairs.

At the top of the flight is a turn to the left. The steps approach in the curve and it is thought that the man made a misstep, launched heavily against the wall to the right and tried to stop his fall or grasp support, lost his balance with fatal results.

The accident is a severe shock to the parents and to many friends of Mr. Sutherland. He had lived in Janesville since his birth with the exception of a few months spent in the east. He was born Dec. 15, 1880 and received his education in the Janesville grade and high schools. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the home, the Rev. Charles Ewing of the First Congregational church officiating. The body will be laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery.

Rice Lake plays here Saturday.

HANOVER

A play, "The Dutch Detective," will be given by the I. Y. P. S. at the M. W. A. hall Tuesday evening, March 7th. Adv.

Sort Defined.

"Is that boy a chip of the old block?" "Why, no. He's only a little shaver."—Baltimore American.

Quality Fish

This market has a reputation for better fish and more varieties. Place your order early.

NATIVE PIKE
MACKINAC TROUT
LAKE SUPERIOR WHITE FISH
LAKE ERIE PERCH
LAKE RED SKINNED BROWNHEADS
STRICTLY FRESH EGGS.
SKINNED NATIVE PIKE, (ready for the pan)
HALIBUT STEAK
SALMON STEAK
GENUINE NORWAY SALT MACKEREL
SPICED FIRE FISH
LARGE SELECT OYSTERS in bulk.

BOB WHITE CODFISH, (in 1 lb. and 2 lb. boxes)
SMOKED LAKE TROUT
SMOKED WHITEFISH.
All our fish are cleaned and scaled perfectly before being delivered.

G. W. Yahn

THE QUALITY MARKET
217 W. Milw. St.

Friday and Saturday Specials

Best Qualities—Low Prices.
8 pounds Bulk Oatmeal, 25c
Bismarck Sweet Mixed Pickles, qt. bottles 25c
A 1 Sweet Corn, 3 cans 25c
Bulk Peanut Butter, lb. 15c
2 lbs. 25c
Plenty Sweet Oranges, doz. 30c, 35c and 40c
Special Values on Everything in the store Friday and Saturday.

Bluff St. Grocery

Fred Schaller, Prop.
Both Phones.

2 cans Pink Salmon 25c
Red Salmon, can 18c
2 for 35c
Smoked Whitefish, lb. 18c
Fresh bulk Oysters, qt. 45c
Square Salt Crisp Oyster Crackers, lb. 8c
4 large Grape Fruit 25c
Cal. Navel Oranges, doz. 30c
Cooking or Eating Apples, pk. 35c
Cabbage, head 5c
Fresh Roasted Peanuts, lb. 10c
Qt. jar Olives 25c

E. R. Winslow

19-21 So. River.
Bell Phone 504, 505. R. C. 372

MILWAUKEE RISES TO THE EMERGENCY

Health Commissioner Given Emergency Fund of Twelve Thousand to Fight Typhoid.

Milwaukee, March 2.—The common council in special session today gave Health Commissioner Ruhland $12,000 as an emergency fund to use in halting the spread of typhoid fever, of which the health department reported there were 212 cases in Milwaukee, including reports up to noon today. Dr. Ruhland said he will at once send doctors and nurses into homes where the disease is known to exist, with instructions to employ medical treatment that will be effective not alone in the speedy cure but also in preventing other members of the family or neighbors from becoming infected.

Janitors of schools have been instructed to boil water for use in classrooms. Artesian water is being pumped into the schools have been advised by the health department to accept the offer of breweries to supply vast quantities of artesian water free to the schools.

Rice Lake plays here Saturday.

MILWAUKEE RISES TO THE EMERGENCY

Health Commissioner Given Emergency Fund of Twelve Thousand to Fight Typhoid.

[By Associated Press.] Milwaukee, March 2.—The common council in special session today gave Health Commissioner Ruhland $12,000 as an emergency fund to use in halting the spread of typhoid fever, of which the health department reported there were 212 cases in Milwaukee, including reports up to noon today. Dr. Ruhland said he will at once send doctors and nurses into homes where the disease is known to exist, with instructions to employ medical treatment that will be effective not alone in the speedy cure but also in preventing other members of the family or neighbors from becoming infected.

Janitors of schools have been instructed to boil water for use in classrooms. Artesian water is being pumped into the schools have been advised by the health department to accept the offer of breweries to supply vast quantities of artesian water free to the schools.

Rice Lake plays here Saturday.

Fresh Halibut

Nice sliced—ready to use. Our most popular fish. Sliced Fresh Salmon.

Fresh lot Smoked Finnan Haddie.

Fresh lot Smoked Whitefish.

Genuine Codfish, thick, white chunks, 22c lb.

Boned Corn, 1-lb. box, 22c.

Genuine Imported Norway Mackerel, 25c lb.

Fine lot firm, thick, white Smoked Halibut, 28c lb.

Dedrick Bros.

FRESH FISH

Silver Herring, lb. 15c
Halibut Steak, lb. 18c
Dressed Whitefish, lb. 15c
Lake Superior Trout, not frozen, lb. 20c
Genuine Smoked Whitefish, lb. 17c
Bob White Codfish, in wood boxes, lb. 18c
Sliced Salmon in oil, glass at 10c
Sliced Herring glass jars 20c
Salt Herring, lb. 10c
Plenty of Fresh Eggs, doz. 25c
3 Mustard Sardines 25c
Oil Sardines, can 5c, 10c, 15c
Heinz Spaghetti cooked ready to serve, can 10c, 15c
3 Spaghetti, Noodles or Macaroni 25c
Clam Chowder, Shrimp and Lobster.

Roesling Bros.

Groceries and Meats
SEVEN PHONES
All 128.

Janesville MEAT HOUSE

Cash Prices Delivered Anywhere

Notice big Drop in Prices

SIRLOIN STEAK 12 1/2c
ROUND STEAK 12 1/2c
FLANK STEAK 12 1/2c
HAMBURGER 12 1/2c
SHORT CUT S 12 1/2c
PORTERHOUSE STEAK FOR GOOD POT ROAST BEEF PLATE BEEF 15c FOR BEST POT ROAST BEEF FOR 12 1/2c

This is not a low grade meat at a cheap price, but the best young meat money can buy.

LEG LAMB 15c
LAMB CHOPS 12 1/2c
SHOULDER LAMB 10c
LAMB STEW 8c

A. G. Metzinger

PHONES
New, 56. Old, 436.

FRUIT GROWERS' ATTENTION

There will be a meeting of all growers of strawberries and other fruits at the office of the Commercial Club, corner East Milwaukee and Bluff streets, on Saturday, March 4, at 2 P. M., to consider the organization of a fruit growers' association for Rock county.

Signed,
M. S. KELLOGG,
J. P. NEWMAN,
W. M. KNIPSCHILD.

All deposits made in this bank during the first ten days of March draw interest from the first of the month, this applies both to new and old accounts.

THE ROCK COUNTY SAVINGS & TRUST CO.

Kidney Diseases Cured

The kidneys act as guardians and eliminators to the blood. They separate the poisonous elements from the blood and eliminate them in the urine. A diminution of their function will result in an abnormal condition of the blood. Uremia, convulsive seizures, vomiting, blindness, paralysis, disturbances of the heart and respiratory function, pain in the back, etc., are due to kidney insufficiency. The healthy kidney removes poisonous substances from the blood. Diseased kidneys throw poisonous substances into the blood, thus irritating the vital and motor centers. The Milk and Root Treatment will cure diseases, including tuberculosis of the kidney.

M. A. CUNNINGHAM, M. D.
Room 34 Central Bldg.

Razook's Luncheons Praised By Everyone

Everyone who stops in here to eat, leaves with a feeling of satisfaction and many are the words of commendation offered by patrons of our Luncheon Department. Try it the next time you have to stay down town to eat and you will be agreeably surprised at the service and excellence of the food we serve.

RAZOOK'S

30 S. Main St.
Both phones.

FRESH FISH FOR FRIDAY

Extra quality fresh fish, sold from sanitary container which keeps them in perfect condition.

PIKE
WHITEFISH
HALIBUT
SALMON
SELECT OYSTERS
Cream City Margarine, 2 pounds 35c.
Prompt deliveries to any part of the city.

J. F. Schooff

The Market on the Square.
212 W. Milw. St. Both phones

Butter Now Higher In Price Than Ever Before

Why not economize by using on your table

Jelke "Good Luck" Margarine

at 22c per pound and save over the price you would pay for butter.

"Good Luck" is as pure and wholesome as any butter made. The best families in Janesville are using it on their tables daily.

There is more "Good Luck" Margarine sold in Janesville than all other brands put together. Ask your dealer if this is not so—he knows.

HANLEY BROS.

Wholesale Commission Merchants.
E. J. Murphy Mgr.

Wholesale Commission Merchants.

E. J. Murphy Mgr.

If you want work or need help of any kind use the want ads.

FAIR STORE

Special Sale For This Week

California Navel Oranges, Price 30c 27c 22c 17c Size 96 126 150 216 5c per dozen below regular price. 1 sk. Gold Mine Flour...$1.65 1 doz. strictly Fresh Eggs...25c

Spring Styles In Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes

Second floor.

Women's high cut lace bronze shoes, special at $2.95.
Women's high cut lace shoes, patent vamp, soft kid tops, at $2.95.
Women's dull kid button gypsy boots, at $2.45.
Women's cloth top lace shoes in patent or gun metal, at $2.45.<

THE GIRL AND THE GAME . . .

Copyright 1915 by Frank H. Spearman.

Rhineland made up his mind not to dodge the issue and he assured such of the men as would listen that if they would give him a little time he would replace the pay roll on his personal credit; and that no one should lose a cent through the accident. The difficulty was to get the men to listen. The strike idea spread through the camp like an infection, and reason was for the moment completely forgotten. Spike, perceiving the mischief well under way and anxious to get the two city criminals out of the way before the detectives from headquarters should arrive and round up the camp for suspects, directed Spike and Dan to "beat it" back to town on the local passenger.

At this time a sudden and unexpected complication arose. With Spike, the party returned to the shack for a final drink, and when they left it, Sykes and Dan started for the station. But a lighted match carelessly thrown to the ground inside the hut, falling among rubbish, had ignited it, and almost before the pair reached the station the hut was on fire.

Entering the waiting room with his companion, Sykes bought tickets from Helen for the city. When with Dan he walked out on the platform, the local train had pulled in and the crew were looking at the fire in Rhineland's camp.

Sykes and Dan boarded the train at the moment it pulled slowly out. In the office, while Helen was putting away the bill with which Sykes had paid for the tickets, her attention was arrested by a blot of ink on the edge of it. With a woman's intuition, she realized almost at once that the ink-stained bill was one of those stolen from the express package the night before. Running out on the platform, she told Lyons of the discovery.

Helen, frantic as she saw the train pulling away with the burglars, looked around for help. Nothing seemed to offer in any direction and she turned distractedly back to the office to wire Oceanside when her eye fell on a speeder car.

With a start she turned to it, took hold of the handles, pushed the car forward a length, found it responded to her touch, and hardly giving thought as to whether she could manage the machine, conceived, as it began to pick up speed, that possibly she could overtake the departing train. This idea, once in her head, she had only to jump into the seat and in another moment she was in pursuit of the train—then traveling through a zone of fire from the burning camp.

Catching at the inflammable material with which its path was freely spread, leaping from tent to tent and hut to hut, licking up the canvas and eating rapidly into the flimsy wooden structures that barred its way, engulfing machinery, wagons and equipment in its quick advance, the fire, fanned by the north wind and its own suction, tore along like a whirlwind, with Rhineland and his gang doing their best to check it. By the time the train had reached the vicinity of the camp, the fire had jumped the track and the flames rose on all sides as the local headed through them.

Close behind the train, Helen, running the thimble's speeder, was doing her utmost to attract the attention of the train crew. Their eyes were fixed on the fire. Helen sped through the angry fire, and gained on the last-moving train until but a slight gap separated the nose of her speeder from the rear platform. Then mounting on the footboard of the roaring little motor, she sprang with all her strength to the observation platform of the rear car.

The conductor and brakeman, looking back at that moment from the coaches to watch the fire, discovered the pursuing speeder. The two started back for the rear platform and they reached it just as Helen landed in front of them from her jump.

"What in the world?" demanded the conductor, as he looked from the excited girl to the deserted limousine's car, now flying back in the race it had maintained with the train. "What in thunder," he again demanded of Helen, in simple, good faith, "are you trying to do, Miss Holmes?"

Helen, short of breath and wild with excitement, tried to explain: "Mr. Rhineland," she said, between gasps, "was robbed yesterday. Thieves took his pay roll from our safe last night. They left bunches of brown paper in the package. They are both on this train!" she cried. "They have the money. We must get them or he'll be ruined, if he isn't ruined by this terrible fire. You must help me, conductor, both of you."

Followed by the brakeman, the two walked forward. It was rather a long train.

The conductor could not be hurried, and the search went all too slowly for Helen, who feared what did, in fact, presently occur. Sykes and Dan, uneasy in the fear of special agents on their trail, were on the alert. They sat near the front door of the smoker, and as Helen and the conductor began at the rear end of the car to look over the passengers, Sykes, spying Helen, quietly slid through the front door—left open to let the smoke out—to the platform, Dan following. They sat down on the steps looking for a good place to jump off. While the conductor was walking forward, with Sykes casting furtive glances at him through the front window, the train drew near the San Pablo river. "I'm off here," growled Sykes to his confederate, briefly.

(Continued tomorrow)

ROCK COUNTY FAIR DIRECTORS' MEETING

County Fair Directors Hold Important Meeting Tuesday Afternoon—Change Date of Fair.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Janesville, March 2.—The directors of the big Rock county fair held a meeting Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 o'clock by President Hyne, with Directors G. J. Central, George L. Pullen, F. Hyne, Dr. C. S. Ware, R. E. Acheson, Chauncey Miles, M. Lewis and F. W. Gillman, present.

Owing to a misunderstanding between the management of the fair and that of the Beloit fair, the date of the Rock county fair conflicted with that of the Beloit fair. For this reason the date has been changed from August 22-23-24-25 to August 16-17-18-19.

Personal Mention.
The friends of Miss Nellie Torpey gave her a miscellaneous shower at the Central House, Monday night. The guest of honor was presented with a set of dishes. A splendid supper was served and a pleasant evening resulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller entertained Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Urtz of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cox, Miss Anna Thomas and Beverly Haeveling, in honor of Mrs. Miller's brother, William Krause, of Butter-nut, Wis.

Mrs. W. Porter, who has been teaching in Madison during the illness of one of the teachers there, returned to her home in this city Wednesday.

Clarence Hall is loading a car and will move to his new home near Chetek at once.

G. J. Strum of Madison was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Frank Kutzke and family are moving onto their farm near Chetek this week.

Arthur Broughton of Albany transacted business in this city yesterday.

Frank Green of Magnolia was a local business visitor yesterday.

Walter Williams and family have leased their farm and are moving into the north side of the W. J. Hyne house.

Joe Williams and family are moving to Chetek this week.

Mrs. William Dixon of Center was an Evansville shopper yesterday.

August Krause of Attica transacted business here yesterday.

James Douglas is moving his blacksmith shop into the Mrs. Winslip property on Main street, recently occupied by the G. C. Van Wormer livery stable.

F. E. Colong was a Brooklyn visitor yesterday.

Frank Van Patten is moving onto his farm southeast of this city.

Mrs. E. M. Meggott of Janesville is spending a few days here with Mrs. W. B. Meggott.

Mrs. Verne Wells and daughter of Footville were recent guests at the Robert McCoy home here.

Miss Ida Heron was a Janesville visitor the first of the week.

Frank Kutzke and family are moving to their farm near Cameron.

Fred Sanders of Madison was a visitor here the fore part of the week.

Mrs. L. S. Palmer and daughter, Mae, are spending the week with H. B. Benny and family in Beloit.

Mrs. Flora Winslip has returned to Brodhead after a brief visit with local friends.

Kenneth Gilbertson was a recent Janesville visitor.

J. D. Bellman spent the week-end with his parents at Fort Atkinson.

Fred Graves was a Janesville visitor Sunday.

Walter Biglow was a Brooklyn visitor yesterday.

Charles Decker was a Beloit visitor Tuesday.

Gundt Gilbertson was a recent Janesville visitor.

A. D. Bullard was a Milton visitor recently.

O. C. Goodnough was a recent Janesville visitor.

Cyrus Montgomery was a Janesville visitor Sunday.

Earl Tullar was a recent Janesville visitor.

Perry Waite of Brooklyn was a Janesville visitor Monday.

Miss Hattie Ingraham of Brooklyn was a recent local visitor.

Mrs. Ed. Roberts of Rockford was the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. Warner, the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arb. Townsend of Magnolia were recent local shoppers.

Miss Jessie Kelley spent the week-end with relatives in Orfordville.

Harry Bishop of Janesville was a recent local visitor.

Webb Owen of Footville was a recent local visitor.

Mrs. Dale Smith was a Brooklyn visitor Sunday.

Delbert Smith of Brooklyn was a recent local visitor.

Miss Ida Loeffel of Brooklyn was a local shopper yesterday.

Ralph Toulney was a Brooklyn visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Webster of Brooklyn was a local visitor the first of the week.

A number from here attended the banquet given by the Rod and Gun club in Janesville Wednesday night.

W. M. Krause has returned to his home at Butternut after a visit at the Robert Miller home.

Arthur Broughton of Albany was a local visitor yesterday.

Wallace Andrews of Magnolia was a recent local visitor.

W. M. Dooley of Janesville transacted business in this city the first of the week.

H. E. Acheson of Magnolia was a local business visitor Tuesday.

Dan Finnane transacted business in Orfordville Tuesday.

G. S. Saker of Magnolia transacted business here yesterday.

For quick results try a want ad.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

BY DAISY DEAN

Because she is in love with her work quite as much as because she is such a dainty and refreshingly natural little damsel, Vivian Martin is climbing to the top at an amazingly rapid pace. When one thinks of the girlish stars of the screen, one almost instinctively hunches Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Vivian Martin, Mary Miles Minter and Viola Dana together. Miss Martin, whose work in "Merely Mary Ann" has given her a national fame, has begun work on her second picture. She is fitting herself out with a wardrobe suitable for wear in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia or the Carolinas. Some of the scenes in her forthcoming picture will be made in one of the aforementioned states.

NEWEST RELEASES FOR NEXT MONTH

The first release for March will be "According to Law." Mildred Gregory has the star part in this fiery red masterpiece. Howard Hall is playing opposite her. The second picture of the month will be "The Haunted Mansion."

Iva Shepard is the star in this. Opposite her is Earl O. Schenck. The third photoplay will star Marguerite Courtot. It is a strong dramatic feature into which has been woven the Nathaniel Hawthorne fantasy "Feathertop." The photoplay will bear the same name.

THESE PLAYERS PREFER THE SOUTH

Pauline Frederick very thoughtfully wrote to the officials from Palm Beach, whither she has gone for "Andrey," her next picture, that she hopes they will select a southern story for her after the completion of "Andrey."

Writes Miss Frederick: "They are so many exquisite settings that it seems a pity to forego them." Marguerite Clark wants to go south for her next picture to get warm again.

Antonio Moreno and Dorothy Kelly are seen in well-suited roles in Arthur J. Westerman's dramatic subject, "The Supreme Temptation," just completed. The work of Charles Kent, Kate Davenport, Ewart Overton, Mary Maurice, Jack Brawn and Templer

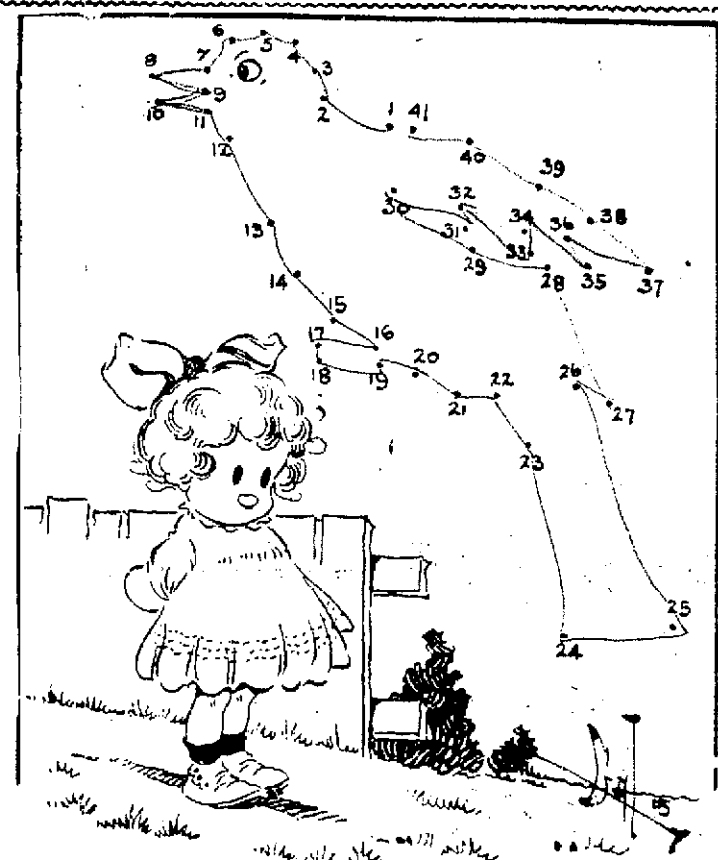

Vivian Martin

Miss Vivian Martin, who recently made a great hit in the name part of Israel Zangwill's "Merely Mary Ann," is a Michigan girl, with Sparta as her birthplace. She has been on the stage since she was six years old.

Saxe, also adds materially to the success of this feature.

Bertha Kallisch has contracted to appear in a series of heavy dramas.

Complete the picture by drawing a line through the dots. Begin at No. 1 and take them numerically.

WARRANTY DEED.

Ida Buith to William March, lot 8, Valentine's addition, Janesville, $1,000.

Fred L. Wilbur and Willard J. Skelly and wives to Charles W. Butler, part lot 16, Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition, Janesville, $1.

Henry Nelson and wife to W. O. Wright, lot 6, block 3, Hillcrest Park addition, Beloit, $1.

Frank L. Gunnison and wife to August May's part lot 7, James Croft's addition, Edgerton, $2,000.

Mary E. Bentley to Clarence H. Baddock and J. P. Keller, part lot 1, block 12, Swift's addition, Edgerton, $11,500.

Lizzie A. Macy to John Quinn, part lot 4, block 14, Janesville, $1.

Darwin B. Griffin and wife to John Garrison, lot 12, block 20, Smith's addition, Janesville, $75.

Idella S. Woodruff to George Woodruff, lot 4, Butler's addition, Janesville, $1.

George Woodruff and wife to Idella S. Woodruff, part lot 12, block 1, George H. Field's addition, Janesville, $1.

Clarence S. Jackson and Clarence W. Jackson and wives to Charles L. Fifield, lot 3, Jackson's sub. block 16, Jackson A. Smith's addition, Janesville, $350.

William Anklam to Louise Anklam, his wife, E. 1/2, SW. 1/4, section 2-2-13, $1.

W. H. Greenman and wife to A. M. Hull, part sections 25 and 36 in 4-13, $23,000.

Anton Erickson and wife to Frank Stoldt, part sections 5 and 4 in 1-11, $16,720.

Julia Cheesebro to Harry DeJean and wife, part section 31-4-12, $6,300.

Mary E. Farman to Roy H. Farman, part lots 12, block 14, Swift's addition, Edgerton, $1.

Albert Schaller (s) to Tillie P. Blakeway, lot 15, Shumway's addition, Janesville, $1,500.

Mary H. Schleritzauer to Affie M. Poppleton, $5,600, part lot 104, Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition, Janesville.

Ambrose R. Ball, Sr., and wife, to James C. Hecoma, und. 1/2, lots 31, 32, 34, 36 Maplewood Park addition Beloit, $1.

Alfred M. Van Wormer and wife to Grace B. Carpenter, part lot 17, block 12 Evansville, $1.

S. Graham Field and wife to John William Doss, lot 21, block 3, Fleudiger's first addition, Beloit $1.

Elizabeth J. Grow and Minnie Le-

AKE TOMORROW A BETTER DAY
"Nothing's wrong" today, if you felt discouraged, dull and listless, if you suffered from indigestion, constipation, sick headache, biliousness, bloating, sour stomach, gas on stomach, and all other conditions caused by delayed bowel action, take a Foley Cathartic Tablet this evening and tomorrow will be a better day. They thoroughly cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. This fine and wholesome physic acts without pain, griping or nausea.—W. T. Sherer.

A Mighty Mountain Range.
Mount Everest is guarded from approach on either side by Tibet and Nepal, undoubtedly the two most inaccessible countries in the entire earth. The mountain range between Everest and Kanchenjunga contains a series of very high mountains, several of them over 25,000 feet. The lowest of the mountains in this range are higher than St. Elias, in North America.

The Gazette wants 500 pounds of clean wiping rags at once. 35c per pound for clean cloths free from buttons and hooks.

MAJESTIC

Tonight at 7:30, 8:45
Tomorrow 2:30, 3:45,
7:30, 8:45.

METRO PRESENTS

The Accomplished and Popular Actress

Valli Valli

Supported By A Capable Cast
IN A Powerful Photoplay of Distinctive Quality.

The Woman Pays

PRINCESS

Tonight
Last Times
The Popular Star

Douglas Fairbanks

in an amusing story of love, business and politics

Double Trouble

Also a Keystone comedy with Fred Mace

The Janitor's
Wife's Temptation

Admission, 10c and 5c.

FRIDAY

That Superb Actor

Hobart
Posw rth

Supported By

Jane Novak

In a great Drama of the Far North

The White Scar

APOLLO

Matinee daily at 2:30
Evening 7:30 and 9:00

TONIGHT

FEATURE VAUDEVILLE

Belmont Girls

The personality girls.

Allman Loader & Co.

comedy sketch "On the Farm"

Milton & Herbert

comedy, singing and talking.

Elsie Cole

Songs.

Photoplays

Changed daily.

VAUDEVILLE PRICES—Mat.
daily 10c. Evening 10c and 20c.

SUNDAYS—Matinee, children,
10c; adults, 20c. Evening,
10c and 20c.

MEADOW GROVE MARGARINE

Pure, Healthful, Nutritious

Meadow Grove Margarine is the Cheapest Food You Can Place on Your Table

MEADOW GROVE is so good that it can be used for your table and it costs less than butter. Many of the best homes in this section serve Meadow Grove on their tables every day.

MEADOW GROVE is pure and healthful. It is made in a cleanly manner from the purest of ingredients and is wholesome and good to eat.

MEADOW GROVE can also be used for cooking of all kinds; everybody likes things cooked with Meadow Grove.

MEADOW GROVE is without question the best margarine on the market. Ask your grocer to give you a small sample of any other brand and then taste them. We believe you will like Meadow Grove better than the others.

Order YOUR Package of Meadow Grove

The Next Time You Phone Your Grocer

THE FOLLOWING WELL KNOWN GROCERS SELL MEADOW GROVE AND SELL A LOT OF IT. WHEN YOU PHONE YOUR GROCERY ORDER AGAIN PLEASE ASK FOR A PACKAGE OF MEADOW GROVE AND GET THE BEST MARGARINE ON THE MARKET. FOR SALE BY

JANESVILLE, WIS.

O. D. Bates

E. C. Baumann

L. J. Buggs

Bluff Street Grocery

Campbell & Sykes

G. D. Cullen

Conway & Dawson

Fair Store, W. F. Carlo

G. L. Gums & Co.

H. S. Johnson

Wm. Lenz

C. and R. McCann

C. J. Muenchow

The Model Grocery

Roessing Bros.

Robbins & Rue

F. O. Samuels.

J. R. Sheldon

Mrs. A. V. Schlater

G. W. Strampe

E. R. Winslow.

BRODHEAD.

Co-Operative Store.

EMERALD GROVE.

H. Walther.

JUDA.

G. B. Lahr.

SHARON

F. J. Biglow.

FOOTVILLE.

J. W. Fraser.

SHOPIERE.

James Haggart.

ALBANY.

Heins & Francis.

MILTON JUNCTION.

A. M. Hull.

DELAVAL.

Chas. Schlada.

MONROE.

A. W. Zilmer.

OVER TWO MILLION FRENCH CITIZENS IN CAPTURED LAND

Fresh Beef is Worth $1.25 Per Pound and Eggs Bring Fifteen Cents
Each—Aided by American.

Paris, March 2.—Two and a quarter million French inhabitants still remain in the territory of the North and East occupied by the Germans. In all of these regions, fresh beef is worth $1.25 a pound and eggs bring fifteen cents each. These prices, which are obtainable with difficulty by those who can afford such costly luxuries. The entire civilian population, excepting the Germans who have been interned since the occupation began, would suffer but for the efforts of the American Relief Commission in co-operation with relief movements in Spain and Holland, and the American Red Cross. The French Academy, with the generous aid of America and other nations, it has been necessary to apportion the provisions in limited quantities with great care. Each family receives daily an entree of 1/2 pound of meat, 1/2 ounce of butter, 1/2 ounce of sugar, 1/2 ounce of salt, and 1/2 ounce of coffee. The average French working man consumes on the average 2 lots of provisions a day, so that he is now obliged to live on the fourth of what he is accustomed to. The production of the soil have been exhausted largely by requisitions for the German troops.

Fifty thousand children in the region of Longwy are nearly all of them without proper clothing, and the same situation is said to exist throughout the occupied regions, it being almost impossible to find clothing at prices which the impoverished population is able to pay. Poorly clothed and insufficiently clad, the people are the object of a great deal of anxiety on account of their exposure to disease and epidemics. Supplies sent into the region for the relief of the population have not been interfered with by the German authorities, but have reached their destinations through the efforts of the American representatives located at Lille, Valenciennes, Vervins, Charleville, and Longwy. The distribution of the hands of local committees of French citizens under the direction of the American Relief Commission, impressed with the urgent need of further relief in the form of clothing and provisions, is issuing an appeal for clothing supplies and money from Frenchmen inhabiting unoccupied regions. The supplies collected locally are forwarded to the population through the good offices of the Swiss government.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, March 2.—Lena Schultz, daughter from Monticello on Tuesday afternoon and sent the time between trains with friends here. Mrs. Alice Leng came down from Brookfield Wednesday and attended the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society at the Methodist parsonage. Carl Brunsvold has rented his farm in the town of Plymouth and moved into the O. H. Rime house on Main street. Mr. and Mrs. George Pankhurst, of Madison, visited Mrs. Pankhurst's sister, Mrs. Halford of Brookfield, on Wednesday. Dick Rossiter of Brookfield transferred business in the village on Tuesday. John Bohm has moved into the Ole Berg residence at the west side of the village and will devote his attention to other matters than tilling the soil for the coming year. Addison Stephens of the state of Iowa visited with old friends and acquaintances here on Wednesday. Mr. Stephens left Orfordville for the far west about thirty years ago and this was his first visit to the scenes of his early manhood.

Milton Junction News

Milton Junction, March 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stockman entertained the South Side Embroidery club and their husbands at a Sunday afternoon luncheon. A two course luncheon was enjoyed. I. P. Hinkley was a Whitewater visitor Wednesday. Mrs. Lark of Fort Atkinson was a business caller here yesterday. Miss Etta Crall of Footville was a guest at the A. M. Thorpe home Wednesday. Bert Burton, who underwent an operation at the St. Mary's hospital, at Madison, Wednesday morning, is doing nicely. Miss Helen Mitchell of Janesville is visiting her father, John Mitchell. Miss Margaret Kaulen of Rockford, Ill., was a guest of Mrs. Mary Langworthy and daughter, Miss Anna, Wednesday. Mrs. L. H. Hinkley was a business visitor at Janesville yesterday. Owing to a case of spinal meningitis, Miss Minnie Godfrey's grades at our local school will not have any school on Monday while the room is thoroughly fumigated. Charles Hassinger was a Madison visitor Wednesday. Mrs. M. A. Richardson spent Wednesday in Janesville. Mrs. Nellie Jacobson of Clinton was a guest at the Frank Mills home Wednesday. K. H. Halverson was a Whitewater visitor yesterday. Mrs. Clayton Freeborn and children were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lawton, Wednesday, before departing for their new home in the northern part of the state. The Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church had a pleasant meeting with Mrs. Webster Miller Wednesday afternoon. O. E. Ramsdell was a visitor in Wednesday evening. George Mullen and family to a farm south of Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farrell to a farm west of Janesville; Earl Johnson and family on the Albert Johnson farm near Milton; Otto Dahlman on the old Warren Thore farm; John Foreman of Janesville on the A. M. Paul farm.

WINDMILLS AND PUMPS.
We are agents for the Waupun
Sealless Windmill and carry repairs on windmills and pumps. Pump jacks in stock. Gasoline engine repairs. Quick automobile service.
BRUMMOND BROS.
Morgan House Barn
phone 1422 Milton Junction.
Successors to Fred Green.
Milton Junction Wis.

KOSHKONONG

Koshkonong, Feb. 29.—The quarterly conference and home coming Wednesday, March 3, 1916, at Otter Creek church. Picnic dinner at 12:30. Quarterly conference at 2:30 p. m.

Address of welcome by the pastor, Rev. Webster Miller. Address—What Can Be Done for the Settlement of the Country Church? Rev. Webster Miller. Address—The Literature of the Church. Rev. A. Porter of Janesville. Address—Rev. E. W. Mager of Fort Atkinson. District Superintendent Rev. Perry Miller of Janesville. There will be recitations and songs by members of the Otter Creek Sunday school and it is hoped there will be a good attendance. All are welcome to come and enjoy the day.

The names of the books of the traveling library secured for Otter Creek church are: "The Story of the United States," "Cleared for Action," "Boys' Second Book for Inventors," "Land of Joy," "Courtship," "Back Yard Farmers," "Four American Patriots," "The Rules of the Campfire Girls," "Women With Empty Hands," "O Pioneers," "Innocence Abroad," "Germany and the Germans," "Raiders," "Refugees," "Husbands," "Folk Songs," "Witch Clark," "In African Forest and Jungle," "Wales; Mothering on Perilous," "Bachelor's Christmas," and "Other Stories: Blackfoot Indian Stories," "Arthur Bonleste," "What Happened in the Night," "Modern Crochet Book," "Constructive and Preventive Philanthropy," "Modern Magic," "Campaigns," "Raoul and the Iron Hand," "Otherwise Edith," "The Gentleman of the Black Stock," "Freshman Friends," "Glenloch Girls," "Scarlet Rider," "St. Nicholas Part I," "St. Nicholas Part II," "Children's Book," "Napoleon Bonaparte," "The Turnall," "Man Behind the Bars," "Ever After," "Lady Cassandra," "Our Little Swiss Cousin," "Silent Places," "Penelope's Progress," "Tad Sheldon," "End of an Era," "Old India Leaves," These books are for the community and anyone wishing can get them by asking the teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shuman went to Ft. Atkinson Sunday to see his sister, Mrs. Richard Hafertman. Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. O. Richardson went to Beloit Friday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson, and from there went to Freeport on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richardson.

Mrs. W. Housen and daughter have been on the sick list. Irene Shuman was home from Milton high school on account of sickness. Arthur Kraus came home from Dakota for a visit with his parents. Arthur Whitaker and family moved from Ft. Shuman to their new home near Milton Junction Monday. Mrs. Dr. Lyons enjoyed a visit from her mother, Mrs. Kochon of Watertown last week. Louis Meuler had a lumber hauling "bee" Wednesday for his new barn to be built soon. Mr. Shuman visited his son, Charley and family at Columbus last week. Rosalia Marquart and Caroline Shuman were among the sick last week. The Washington program given by the school last Tuesday was attended by quite a number of mothers. The girls of the Literary society had charge of the meeting. Ethel Miller, president and Ethel Vogle is secretary.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, Feb. 29.—Mrs. Jane Robert, an old and respected citizen, died at her home in this village Sunday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks' duration. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert. Jesse Henway was a Madison visitor Thursday. Miss Florence Felker spent Sunday with friends at Lodi. Mrs. S. Stichter returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in Madison. Mrs. Edna Pierce visited relatives in Evansville Friday. Miss Jess Waitte of the Whitewater normal school, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tapper of Madison, were guests Sunday at the L. T. Armstrong home. C. P. O'Brien spent Thursday in Madison. Mrs. E. L. Baldwin visited friends in Evansville Thursday. An auction sale was held on the Boyce farm Monday. Miss Florence Seileck spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Evansville. Miss Iva Stokes of Janesville, spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stokes. Miss Grace Kivlin of Whitewater, spent Saturday and Sunday at her parental home. Jess Mason and family are moving into town. Arthur Knudsen and Edward Karmegren of Madison visited Thursday. Miss Beth Ipsall of Evansville, was a guest Sunday at the home of her uncle, G. E. Waite and family. Miss Valerine Conway attended church at Evansville Sunday. Mrs. Mary Peterson of Madison, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Nels Peterson. The Ladies' Aid society will meet Friday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Winter.

LIMA

Lima, March 1.—Pay Aldrich arrived from the north on Monday with his car of household goods and will live on the Jesse Stone farm this year. Mrs. Aldrich will be on the Thursday evening instead of Wednesday as reported yesterday. Amos Gould moved yesterday. Mr. Scholls moved on the farm. Rev. Kriehn moved to town today and Martin Kriehn moved to the D. P. Ryer farm and Ed Stone to the Dixon farm. Farmers: Rye feed twenty-two dollars per ton at the mill. Fourteen percent protein. Come early as we only have a small stock. Blodgett Milling Co., North River Street.

SOUTHWEST LIMA

Southwest Lima, March 1.—Mrs. Julius Traut of Whitewater visited her mother, Mrs. O. W. Bennett, the past week. Mr. and Mrs. George Lieber entered company from Milwaukee Sunday. Mrs. O. W. Bennett entertained the circle at a chicken pie dinner Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook of Janesville called at John Lackner's Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are settled in the O. W. Bennett tenant house. Martin Schoedorf of Janesville is spending several days on his farm in this vicinity. sawyers Wednesday. Silver was a Janesville visitor Friday. The school house in district No. 10 is soon to be newly shingled.

MADISON CLUB TO BUILD CLUB HOUSE THIS SUMMER
(Spec. W. to the Gazette.)
Madison Wis., March 2.—The Madison club will erect a new building this summer in the heart of the city, overlooking the lake. The cost of the building and the lot is estimated at $110,000.

PORTER

Porter, March 1.—John and Oscar Maye spent Sunday afternoon with Mack at Donald Sweeney's.

Clarence McCarthy, numbered with the sick suffering with articular rheumatism. Ed. Julst and Ed. Ford returned home on Monday from their southern trip. Mr. and Mrs. L. Seep and daughters attended a party on Monday evening at Center.

C. McCarthy of Madison spent over Sunday at his home here. Neil McGinley was a Janesville caller on Monday.

Miss Stella Farrington spent the week-end with Miss Ella Moore.

Miss Mary Ludden of Beloit spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Ella Ludden.

Lord and Archie Maybe spent Sunday afternoon with Clarence McCarthy.

A number from this way attended the farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Claude Watson and all report a fine time.

Paul Ludden returned to his home on Sunday after spending a few weeks at the home of C. W. McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boothroyd attended the golden wedding anniversary at the Spike home in Edgerton on Monday.

Miss Nettie Armit spent over Sunday with Miss Vera Boss.

Mrs. Robert Earle is suffering with the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Seep and daughters Marguerite and Grace, spent Tuesday at the home of R. Stearns.

A large number from here attended the dance at Tolles on Tuesday evening.

Miss Marjorie McCarthy spent Wednesday in Edgerton.

Misses Irene Boothroyd and Jennie Olson spent Saturday with Mrs. C. Watson.

Carl and Frank Nelson spent Monday evening with the McCarthy boys.

James McCarthy departed on Monday for Rochester, Minn.

A horse delivered stock to Edgerton on Monday.

Charles Wileman was a business caller in this vicinity on Tuesday.

C. Cleveland is spending a few days at the home of Ole Peterson.

HANOVER

Hanover, March 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borkenhagen attended a show in Orfordville, Saturday night.

The R. N. Artman, who is at the home of Mrs. Jensen on Friday. Dinner was served, after which a meeting was held.

Mrs. Emma Raymond visited relatives in Orfordville Saturday.

Miss Ethel Flint was a week-end visitor with Miss Luella Borkenhagen.

Mrs. Clara Seldmore spent Saturday in Janesville.

A large crowd attended the dance Saturday night and all report a good time.

Ed. Brown of Milwaukee spent Sunday here with relatives.

R. L. Christoph of Waukesha was a Sunday visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Mar Jende.

Mr. and Mrs. Oddie Sorenson and children of Janesville, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Schultz, who is sick.

Miss Lelia Gooch of Plymouth began work as clerk in the Eldahl and Plested store on Monday.

Several from here attended the sale at John Bailer's on Monday.

Mrs. Bertha Ehringer and Rachel Ehringer attended a shower in honor of Mrs. Roy Johnson, given at the home of Mrs. Allen Long, Monday afternoon.

Elmer Gunderson attended a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius in Center in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McPherson, who were married recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hemmings are visiting relatives in Farley, Iowa.

Moving is the order of the day. T. H. Lentz and family moved into their shop Saturday. Charles Siebel of Plymouth moving into the T. H. Lentz home which he recently purchased.

Max Jende into the Ed. Borkenhagen house. Mr. Rieble moving to Milwaukee, and John Bleiler moving to Monroe on a farm which was negotiated in a trade.

Mrs. F. Schultz, who has been seriously sick with pneumonia, is reported as slightly better. Mrs. Mattice of Footville is caring for her.

John Ostrander, Miss Ehringer and Levi Ellis spent Wednesday in Janesville.

Sam Schmidt, who has been spending the winter at Boyceville, Wis., returned here Monday night.

Church Announcements.
Sunday, March 5, German services at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 11:30. Sunday, March 12, beginning a series of Lenten services. German services in the morning and English in the afternoon. Saturday, March 4, regular meeting 1. Y. P. L. at 8:30 p. m. Adult bible class every Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. Welcome. P. Fekken, Pastor.

DARIEN

Darien, March 1.—Mrs. G. W. Benner and Miss Hazel Benbow spent Tuesday in Beloit.

Gilbert Rockwell spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Elkhorn.

Miss Harriet Waite entertained Mrs. Theodore Gilbert and Mrs. Elizabeth Saxton of Delavan, Mrs. Gaylord Allen of Chicago, Miss Nettie Meyer and Miss Jennie Fogel, in a pleasant manner Monday afternoon.

Henry Rockwell was a Janesville visitor Tuesday.

The Misses Margaret Christie and Rae Williams will entertain the arada society Monday evening at the home of Mrs. R. S. Young.

Miss Nettie Meyer went to Chicago, Tuesday, to meet her sister, Mrs. Will Kriehn, who returned from the south, where she with her husband have spent the winter. They both returned to Darien, Tuesday evening to visit relatives.

Mrs. Frank Brundage of Whitewater visited at the home of Mrs. Fred Parks, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Count moved from Elkhorn, Tuesday, into the house recently purchased of Kolin Fleko.

Mrs. E. A. West pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Social club this afternoon.

A large crowd attended the card party and social dance given at the Royal Neighbor hall, Tuesday evening.

Rev. T. W. North delivered the second of a series of lectures at the Methodist church Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Randall moved Tuesday to their farm a mile south of town.

W. C. Hunter spent Tuesday in Chicago.

Mrs. Jack Ward of Racine spent today with Mrs. W. G. Beak.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, March 1.—Mrs. Godfrey Reckord and children are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gray entertained a large crowd at a dancing party Friday evening.

A large crowd attended the farewell party on Mr. and Mrs. P. Ryan Monday evening.

S. Jameson, who has been on the sick list, is much better at this writing.

Read and use the want ads. They are sure winners.

AGRICULTURAL and GARDEN DEPT

ALLEN B. WEST, Director

(Allen B. West.)
Question—Dear Sir, would you please send me a list of the agricultural bulletins given out by the experiment station at Madison? Have gained helpful information from "Ways of Improving Our Soils," No. 204, and "Getting the Most Profit From Manure," No. 221, and I feel sure that I am yours truly, H. B. Childs.
Answer—I have no list of agricultural bulletins and would advise that you send to the station and ask to be placed on their mailing list. I will send you an application blank, which if you will fill out and mail to the experiment station, will bring you the desired bulletins. Will be glad to furnish blanks to anyone desiring them.

Question—How long will corn maintain its vitality? A. S. M.
Answer—This question is especially pertinent this year, owing to the extremely short production of seed corn in 1915. Corn does not maintain its vitality as long as many other seeds, but two years is given as the time, so that if one has good seed saved from the crop of 1914, that has been properly cared for, may be expected to grow. However, "don't guess" test all seed corn this year, whether from 1914 or 1915 crop, ear by ear. And don't buy any seed corn without being sure of the test. Another thing, don't offer any for sale without being able to show purchasers your test. If you have any for sale let us know about it. There's going to be a great demand for it.

Question—Please tell me how to make a satisfactory test of seed corn.
Answer—The question has been so completely answered in these columns and in others of the Gazette that it is hardly advisable to repeat the information here again.

The writer will be glad, however, to supply any who ask with the bulletin, "By testing we can afford to gamble that every ear will grow. Test and plant safe." 15. "In the corn belt test between Feb. 20 and March 20." 16. "By testing we have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

Circular of information No. 18 of the following "Corn Axioms": 1.

"Not more acres of corn but more corn per acre, by testing every year, should be the motto of every corn grower." 2. "We owe it to ourselves and humanity to produce a maximum crop." 3. "No one has a right to plant an ear of seed corn without knowing it will grow." 4. "Testing does not hurt the corn." 5. "It costs but little work to test our corn." 6. "It can be done at a time when other labor is not pressing." 7. "It is only good business to know what we are planting and we can find out only by testing each ear." 8. "Weak and dead seed means a poor stand—a poor stand a poor crop." 9. "To plant a dead or weak ear means about 90 missing or weak ears per stalk." 10. "Missing bills and barren stalks mean wasted labor, wasted time, and wasted land." 11. "The most precious thing in the world is the labor of a human being. Yet he is not testing our seed corn we waste hours every day on vacant ground and worthless stalks." 12. "Like tends to produce like." If we want good corn we must plant good corn." 13. "Planting 'just corn' means harvesting 'just part of a crop.'" 14. "We cannot afford to gamble that every ear will grow. Test and plant safe." 15. "In the corn belt test between Feb. 20 and March 20." 16. "By testing we have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

the Wisconsin Experiment Station also and may be had for the asking.

Farmers! Rye feed twenty-two dollars per ton at the mill. Fourteen percent protein. Come early as we only have a small stock. Blodgett Milling Co., North River Street.

BARKER'S CORNERS

Barker's Corners, March 1.—Mrs. Stuart Alverson was called to Milwaukee Saturday, his mother, Mrs. Taylor, being seriously ill. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Charles Shoemaker is spending five days in Chicago.

Mrs. W. T. Wright entertained a company of friends and neighbors Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shoemaker entertained Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and Miss Erma and Ella Shoemaker, and Miss George Simmons, who has been confined to her home the past week with a gripe, is out again.

Hugh Hemmingsway went to Milwaukee Monday to submit to an operation.

Mr. Webeck is moving onto the Johnson farm.

Quick results—that's everybody's experience with want ads.

Tile drainage— will it pay you?

Every good farmer knows that tile drainage restores wet land. But quite a number of farmers have proved that it also benefits land that's dry and hard. They say it brings larger yields—yields that are uniform from year to year.

It pays others. But will it pay on your farm? What's the theory? Does it work?

Can you tell beforehand approximately what underdrain-ing will cost? Is it a sound investment or is it a gamble?

These are some of the things you want to know before you sink money in the ground—and they're some of the things told you by a man who knows what he's talking about, in Drains to Fight Wetness and Drought, today in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Also in this issue:

Fresh Air for Farm Animals

Sanitation is the keynote of modern farm-building construction, and fresh air is the keynote of sanitation. This is an article for the farmer who believes in helping his livestock to keep healthy. It tells how to plan a ventilating system.

A Cheap Water System

A modification of the farm home water system worked out by the Government. It can be made and installed for from ten to twenty-five dollars.

And Don't Miss

this week's installment of Diana of the Moorland, the story by Louis Tracy; the latest addition to A Game and a Gamble, about implement dealers, their credits and creditors; On the Road of Progress, by Herbert Quick; A Stove-Heated Hotbed; The Buff Orpington, by Judge W. H. Card; Tomatoes in Cool Climates; How to Balance 7 Ration for Farm Stock; Getting Rid of Groundhogs; Forty-Dollar Cottonseed Meal; Going to School at Home, for farm children.

The Lure of the Land

It's high time somebody warned back-to-the-landers that there are unscrupulous land dealers; that farming is not a romance, but a business; that a business farmer doesn't put all his capital into land, and doesn't over-equip. The Country Gentleman says this and more.

Electric Lights from Water Power

The "water power" is a stream six inches wide, that fills a six-inch pipe only three inches deep at low water. But he hitched it up to a dynamo and it does the trick. He tells how, and gives costs.

A Page of Spring Fashions

A page for the farm mother—the home dressmaker. A number of attractive, simple patterns illustrated and described.

And the regular farm and home departments

out to-day
5¢ from any news dealer or boy agent

WOMAN'S PAGE

Marrying for Money

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

Jacob Townsend Fights Hard to Ward Off Bankruptcy.

"Ortrude, may I speak with you alone a few minutes?" asked Jacob Townsend as they rose from the dinner table. Ortrude silently followed him to their room.

After she entered the room and the door was closed, she turned and faced him inquiringly.

"Where are the things that you bought today in Kansas City?" he asked, looking at her steadily in the eye.

"They are here. Why?" she answered.

"Let me see them," continued Jacob.

"There is nothing that would be of interest to you," Ortrude's tone was cold.

"Your bills have always had a compelling interest to me, and if I am not to make an assignment they—"

"I am due downstairs with my cousin. You will please stage your drama some other time." She started to leave the room, but Jacob turned, locked the door and put the key in his pocket.

"Now the sooner we get this thing over the better," he said, "bringing everything here that you bought." He produced a memorandum from his pocket. "I have an itemized account here of everything you bought. This bill amounts to one hundred and seventeen dollars."

Ortrude realized in a flash that she was up against something different from anything she had experienced yet and she stiffened for the conflict.

"If you think, Jacob Townsend, that I am to be locked in a room and called to an account for my expenditures as if I were a child, you are very much mistaken. I am a grown woman. I can take care of myself."

"I should think this little trick of sending back goods would add to your prestige as a merchant," was her parting shot as he went down the stairs with the box.

(To be continued.)

Heart and Home PROBLEMS

—By—
MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters may be addressed to
MRS. THOMPSON
In care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) If a girl has a friend visiting her and two boys come to take them to an entertainment, whose place is it to say that it is time to start?

(2) If a girl starts home from a place and a boy goes along with her, should she ask permission, what should she say?

(3) If a girl is all right in any case for a girl to extend friendship to a boy who has been dropped, should she not fault of her own, but because she has been misrepresented to a boy?

(4) If a boy asks to accompany a girl home, what should she say?

(5) If a girl is only allowed to keep company until a certain hour, how should she tell him it was time to leave?

(6) If the boys say nothing one of the girls might say, "It is time for us to get on our things."

(7) If a girl knows him and is glad to have him go along, she should be friendly. In case she does not know him, she should not speak to him.

(8) If a boy drops a girl, should she not make an effort to retain his friendship? She has no reason to know that she was misrepresented; the chances are that he simply lost interest in her.

(9) She should tell him that she is only allowed to have company until that hour.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are cousins ranging from seventeen to twenty-one. We are trying to form a little social set in the neighborhood and would like a few pointers.

(1) Should a boy give a picture to a girl who is engaged to be married?

(2) What kind of a chaparral should be asked to accompany a sleigh ride?

(1) If a girl has a friend visiting her and two boys come to take them to an entertainment, whose place is it to say that it is time to start?

(2) If a girl starts home from a place and a boy goes along with her, should she ask permission, what should she say?

(3) If a girl is all right in any case for a girl to extend friendship to a boy who has been dropped, should she not fault of her own, but because she has been misrepresented to a boy?

(4) If a boy asks to accompany a girl home, what should she say?

(5) If a girl is only allowed to keep company until a certain hour, how should she tell him it was time to leave?

(6) If the boys say nothing one of the girls might say, "It is time for us to get on our things."

(7) If a girl knows him and is glad to have him go along, she should be friendly. In case she does not know him, she should not speak to him.

(8) If a boy drops a girl, should she not make an effort to retain his friendship? She has no reason to know that she was misrepresented; the chances are that he simply lost interest in her.

(9) She should tell him that she is only allowed to have company until that hour.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are cousins ranging from seventeen to twenty-one. We are trying to form a little social set in the neighborhood and would like a few pointers.

(1) Should a boy give a picture to a girl who is engaged to be married?

(2) What kind of a chaparral should be asked to accompany a sleigh ride?

Maybe the anti-vaccinators could tell you how to remove them. Neither olive oil nor ointment would prevent pitting in smallpox. Be vaccinated—that is the only preventive.

"Purely vegetable" laxative. Is there any hygienic objection to taking a purely vegetable laxative tablet every night?

Answer—The same objection that applies to any drug habit. "Purely vegetable" would be of course, not exclude strychnine, opium, belladonna, hyoscyne, and various other drugs one should not take lightly.

"What would you advise a person of thirty-eight to do for an obstinate trouble some case of piles?"

Answer—Send us a stamped, addressed envelope for monograph upon the subject.

Needless Worry About Leprosy. If a certain publication receives letters from a leper, and publishes the letters, is there any danger to the readers of handing copies of that publication?

Answer—Leprosy is no more contagious than tuberculosis.

Household Hints

FLORIDA MARMALADE. One dozen oranges, one grapefruit, one large pineapple, four pounds granulated sugar.

Take eight peeled oranges; core and slice thin. Take four peeled pineapples; core and slice thin.

Cover all with water and set over night. In the morning slice pineapple, add to above and put all on stove together. Cook down one-third, then add sugar and cook till thick. This makes about three quarts.

EGG WHITES. These bits of raw egg makes a most satisfactory paste, and for some things is better than any prepared mucilage or paste.

Put into the white of an egg the pulp intended for covers to tumbler of jelly or jam. They will hold securely and will be air tight.

In making mustard plasters mix in the white of egg, and there will be no danger of burning the flesh. The white skin that lines the shell is a cooling application for a boil.

BREADS. Southern Cornbread. Sift together one-half teaspoon baking soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup cornmeal, one cup white flour, one-half cup sugar. Beat two eggs into one cup sour milk. Add one cup of the mixture to the dry ingredients. Use one teaspoon more butter with two tablespoons of lard if milk is used instead of cream.

Butter Bread—Sift together two cups flour, four level teaspoons baking powder and half teaspoon salt. Add one cup finely chopped nuts. Beat one egg without separating, add one cup sweet milk; mix these with flour. Turn into greased pan, let stand fifteen minutes, bake in moderate oven forty-five minutes.

Brown Bread—Two cups graham flour, two tablespoons sugar, pinch salt, half cup oil, one cup molasses, one well-beaten egg, one cup sour milk, half teaspoon soda dissolved in milk, one cup chopped raisins, one cup chopped hickory nuts. Bake one hour.

THE SUNDAY DINNER. Vegetable Soup. Roast Beef, Candied Sweet Potatoes, Macaroni with Cheese.

Spinach, Hard Boiled Eggs, Dressing, Lettuce Salad, French Dressing, Sliced Pineapple, Small Cakes, Coffee.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. Changing the water two or three times will keep potatoes from turning dark, and if they have been frost-bitten this will improve them.

Paraffin oil when can be bought at any drug store for twenty-five cents a quart or less, is excellent for cleaning painted or varnished woodwork. Applied with a soft cloth, it will remove every particle of dust and dirt, dries almost instantly and leaves the surface smooth and glossy.

THE TABLE. Baked Peas (To be served instead of meat). Soak one pound dried peas several hours, then boil until tender. Chop fine one large onion and brown in butter; add to peas, turn into buttered baking dish. Pour over enough white sauce to cover surface, sprinkle with bread crumbs and grated cheese, dot with bits of butter and brown in hot oven a few minutes.

Roast Hamburger With Tomato Sauce—To twenty cents' worth of hamburger, add one-third loaf bread (stale and previously soaked and cut fine). Work well with the hand, add one medium onion chopped fine, salt and pepper. Mold mixture into a roll, flat on one end, three inches thick. Place in roaster and pour around it one quart tomatoes mixed with one-half cup flour and water thickening, salt and generous pinch of cayenne. Bake two hours.

Maple Nut Dainties—Take one cup maple syrup and one cup water; bring to boiling point, then add one box orange gelatine. Set away to cool. When it commences to harden add one cup chopped walnut meats and the white of one egg beaten stiff. Beat twenty minutes. Serve in sherbet glasses with a generous spoonful of whipped cream on top.

QUEEN VICTORIA PAINTING GOES INTO CELL WHEN MILWAUKEE GERMANS MEET

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Milwaukee, Wis., March 2.—With the painting of Queen Victoria removed from its place of honor in the Auditorium and stored in the basement for the week, The Wisconsin Anglo-German Aid society auctioned here today with life-size caricatures of Wilhelm and von Hindenburg, and a painting of the queen, which cannot be used until after the war because the lines are not in operation; half a dozen small Wisconsin farms and a white canvas for war women, made by Milwaukee girls. One booth is a huge replica of the sunken German sea raider Emden.

AKRON GIRLS TAKING LESSON FROM BRIDGET ON HOW TO WASH DUDS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Akron, O., March 2.—Daughters of prominent Akron business men, millionaire rubber manufacturers and professional men today are learning by actual experience the high school house washwoman. Bridget O'Rourke earns $1.50 and two car tickets daily. After a yell somewhat like the school song on the hot water spigots, she grabs a bar of soap and salt in the wash tub course is one of several designed to teach efficiency and develop capable housekeepers.

SIDE TALKS

—By—
RUTH CAMERON

PACKING.

The lady-who-always-knows-some-how was packing. On the floor beside her little trunk was a heap of clothing and miscellaneous articles, so large that it seemed incredible, they should ever be crowded inside it.

Molly, the little stenographer lady, said so. "But I know it will," she added. "You're such a wonderful packer. Tell me how you do it."

"Mercy, I am not wonderful at all," laughed the lady of the trunk. "I have been my mother's pack."

"I wish you'd tell me some of your secrets."

"I haven't any," said the lady. "Just at that moment she took up a shoe and began to pack some stockings into it."

"There, I knew it," said Molly. "I never thought to pack things inside of shoes."

The lady smiled at that. "I thought everybody packed the inside of things like hats or shoes."

"Well, they don't," said Molly, "unless I'm nobody's pack."

She sat thoughtful for a moment. Then: "There's another kind of packing things inside of things that everybody doesn't do."

"What do you mean?" we inquired.

"Well, she said, 'I always wondered how Mrs. L. managed to do the work of that big house and always have time to help everybody. She said she knitted forty-seven swabs for the hospital already.'

She paused to let this sink in and we ventured to inquire its relationship to packing things in shoes.

"Making More Room in Your Day by Saving Space," said Molly.

"Yesterday I happened to go over there just before dinner and there was Mrs. L. sitting in front of the stove watching the dinner cook and knitting away. She said she does it every night. Now isn't that making more room in your day by packing one thing inside another?"

The lady paused in the act of stuffing a hat full of miscellaneous articles long enough to nod at Molly.

"Very good, my dear."

"I guess that's the difference between Mrs. Martin and the new lady across the street."

"Mrs. Martin says her little girl takes almost every minute of her time and the new lady across the street has two, and she keeps her home like war and makes their clothes and hers. I often see her sitting in the window sewing while the children play around her, and sometimes she sews and tells them stories."

"I suppose that's the way she packs her days. Mrs. Martin says she can't do but one thing at a time. Perhaps some people are made that way and can't help it. Do you think so?"

"You Can Carry it Too Far."

"No," said the lady, thoughtfully, while she demonstrated her own ability by deftly filling in some empty corners. "I think some people are naturally cleverer than others, but anyone can learn to do two things by putting his mind to it. But this I do think, Molly, that it can be carried too far and take more out of you in nervous force than you gain in time. For instance, I know a girl who is so anxious to pack her days chock full that she always tries to leave some little part of her dressing (like putting on a wrist-watch) to do on the way down-stairs."

"I think the mental effort of carrying it so far costs more than it is worth. In other words—"

The lady paused to struggle with the lock of the trunk. "There's a golden mean in packing as well as in other things," finished Molly.

"Exactly," smiled the Lady-who-always-knows-somehow.

LEAP YEAR CLUBS TO PICK HUBBIES

Pretty Girls of Dallas Texas Decide That They Want to do the Choosing.—Don't Hurry Gentlemen.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Dallas, Tex., March 2.—Miss Genis Jones, prominent society girl, and president of the Dallas Society Girls' Club, in explaining the object and purpose of the organization to a reported today said: "The Leap Year club is simply a result of the growing sentiment that girls believe in the right to choose the men they must look after in the cold, cups every morning for the balance of their natural lives. This is Leap Year, and the only chance we will have to exercise that privilege for the next four years."

believe in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

The keynote of success in the Leap Year dance will be the girls' belief in the barbarous custom of having to go to a dance, or to the theatre, or to the marriage license bureau with a man simply because he happens to be there when we rather should go with someone else."

The officers of the club are Miss Lucy Poy, vice-president, Miss Marie Fleming, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruth Shelburne, sergeant-at-law. It is said that since the organization of the club, eligible young men have become extremely wary of secluded meetings and late-night parties.

ly dark in Dallas at night. The affair is sponsored by the city officials and Mayor Lindsay and the city commissioners will be present.

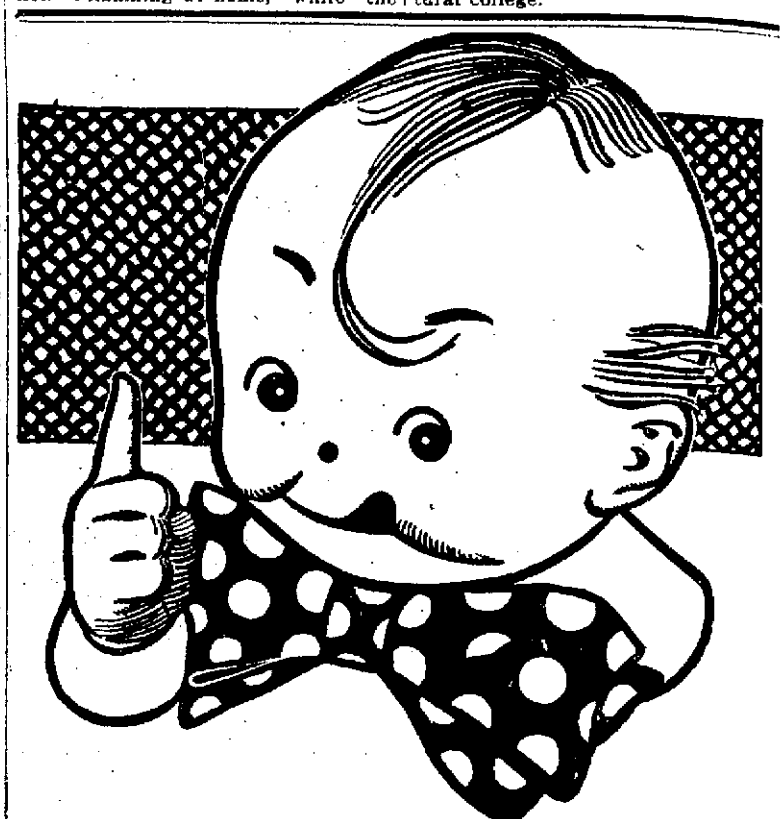

FUTURIST PAINTING FAD MEETS TEST IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 2.—Lucy can take her crayon portrait of the parlor wall, put it on the piano and by gazing at its vivid colorings may be inspired to compose and dash off "The Green Whisker Sonata" or something equally lurid if violinist and composer Isador Berger's presentation of "Abstract Color Music" at Orchestra hall with the Chicago Symphony orchestra tonight is a success. Berger's idea has the futurist painting fad fading. Berger says he has discovered the missing link between music and painting. To prove it tonight, he will play two compositions he has woven with the lock of the futurist paintings. The paintings are known as "The Wedding March" and "Moods." They were so full of color, Berger said after seeing them at a local exhibit, that he decided to set them to music. After he composed them he found the result so daring that only an orchestra he declared, could give them worthy interpretation. "Every instrument possesses a color," he said, "and colors times more than one coloring may be obtained, according to the different registers employed."

AGRICULTURAL STUDENTS TO DEBATE TARIFF ISSUE

Madison, Wis., March 2.—Tams representing the Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin colleges of agriculture, will meet on May 12th in a triangular debate upon the subject. "Resolved, that the best interests of the farmers of the United States require a protective tariff." Each institution will be represented by two teams. The teams will try out the affirmative side of the question remaining at home, while the supporters of the negative debate in foreign territory. This will be the first time that Wisconsin has competed with the Iowa college. Between the affirmative and negative men will try out for the teams at the Wisconsin agricultural college.

supporters of the negative debate in foreign territory. This will be the first time that Wisconsin has competed with the Iowa college. Between the affirmative and negative men will try out for the teams at the Wisconsin agricultural college.

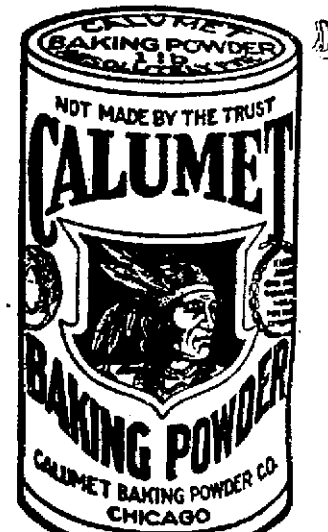

"Now Remember—"

hurry to your grocer's for a can of Calumet—learn your final and best lesson in baking—bake everything with Calumet that proved a failure with other Baking Powders.

"This is the test which proves Calumet the surest, safest Baking Powder in the world—the most economical to buy and to use. My mother has used Calumet for years—and there's never a bake-day failure at our house."

Received Highest Awards
New Cook Book Free—
See Slip in Pound Can

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Simpson's

GARMENT STORE

To the Visiting School Teachers we Extend an Invitation to Look over Our Showing of Spring Garments

At this time every lady is thinking of what she is going to wear for Spring.

Daily shipments of up to the minute styles add fresh interest to our splendid display of Spring Suits, Coats, Dresses, etc.

Our assemblage of New Spring Styles will be more than pleasing to those of discriminating tastes. They give that personal touch of exclusiveness and refinement to the new models that make them recognized for their individuality.

SUITS COATS
$13.50 to $65 $10.00 to $45
SPECIAL DRESS OFFERING
$16.75, $18.75, $21.75
Janesville's Only Exclusive Garment Store.

See Yourself As You Should Look free from facial blemishes and with a healthy, glowing complexion. Gouraud's Oriental Cream does this for you instantly. Its effects so subtle that its use cannot be detected. Non-grasy — 68 cents in use. Send 10c for trial size. FERD. T. HOPKINS & SON, New York

WORMS. Granddunk is as sure the sun rises as she is that babies and older children have worms. And once in a long while she just happens to be right about the worms. But this is a coincidence, not a diagnosis. There are no symptoms which can, with even a fair degree of probability, be attributed to worms. In fact, what granddunk insists is worms—fever, nausea, vomiting, heavy, sweet breath, flushed cheeks, white lines about the mouth, etc.—are usually symptoms of acute intestinal indigestion or acid intoxication, from dietetic errors. But occasionally the trouble really is due to round worms in the bowel. The only way in which a correct diagnosis of worms may be made is by having worms or their eggs in the stools. Makes no difference whether it be round worms, thread worms (pin worms, seat worms), tapeworms or hookworms, the diagnosis cannot be made unless the worms are found in the stool or their eggs discovered by microscopical examination. But supposing a child really has been convicted on something better than circumstantial evidence to the passing of one or more round worms or pin worms, what should be done in the way of treatment? Give the poor, helpless child somebody's alleged "worm-expeller" for a few weeks? Feed him worm powders until he rebels? No. Give him tapeworms, tapeworms, round worms or pin worms, (this is the ideal treatment.) Send the patient to bed with a supper of only bread and milk. In the morning administer to a child one capsule of five drops of oil of chenopodium (American wormseed), or give the five drops on a little sugar. Two hours later give a dose of castor oil or of aromatic syrup of rhubarb. The castor oil treatment, if no worms come away your doctor will have to help you out of the predicament. For an adult the same treatment of the oil may be given, and repeated two or three mornings if necessary. Any alleged "worm medicine" that is given at intervals over a period of days is worse than useless.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Pock Marks. How can pock marks be removed from the face? If olive oil or an ointment had been applied to the sores, would it have prevented pock marks? Answer—They cannot be removed.

A WIG IN THE WIND

By CATHARINE GRANMER.

"As for being on friendly terms with Mr. Gray, I know of no reason why I shouldn't be friendly with him, for he is as truly a gentleman as any man I know."

Grace gave the open car more speed and a drop of rain in Mrs. Allison-Dodge's face cut short her reply to her niece's spirited speech. The clouds darkened, the wind became stronger, and that first drop of rain was followed by other scattered drops. The road was now in sight.

A hurried glance over her shoulder showed Grace a covered car approaching from behind. About half a mile after they struck the road they came to a blacksmith shop and general store just as the rain began to come down in driving sheets. Without waiting for permission, Grace ran her car under the shed, and a few minutes later the covered car drew up on the sheltered side of the shop. It proved to be a jitney in which Ashby Gray had started back to the city. Seeing Mrs. Allison-Dodge in dismay and her niece vainly trying to soothe her, Ashby Gray defied the rain and dashed from the jitney to the shed, offering any assistance possible.

In her agitation to see whether the storm promised to abate, Mrs. Allison-Dodge lifted her veil to peer at the clouds. A sudden twisting wind swept well and hat and then the soft white hair from her head. She cried out as she grabbed wildly at the moving mass of chiffon and lace and hair, but the wind was stubborn and the veil became tangled, and the lady renowned for her soft white hair and lovely skin stood weaved with a tiny pigtail of gray hair in which a streak of faded brown still showed.

Grace stood as astounded as Ashby Gray, for she had not known that her aunt wore a wig. Except for one discreet hairdresser there was perhaps no one who suspected that the gradual writing process through which her hair had passed was but the adoption of a series of wigs, each one whiter than its predecessor. After a speechless interval which seemed ages to all three, Grace managed to help adjust the mass of head covering.

"Aunt Clara," began Grace, a moment afterward, "Mr. Gray says it will take an hour to run back to town with the roads as wet as they are, and don't you think you'd better let him take you on in his covered car now and let me come on later when the rain stops?"

Something told Mrs. Allison-Dodge that this was no time to harbor prejudices against would-be suitors for her niece's hand. Besides, and most of all, she wanted to get home, and have in a massage and that discreet hairdresser, and several other people to repair her in time for the evening. She was half inclined to accept Mr. Gray's suggestion that she ride home in the closed jitney.

"Hurry up, Ashby," called Gray's companion from the jitney. "I've got two assignments waiting for me in town."

But the name of Ashby had struck pleasantly on Mrs. Allison-Dodge's aristocratic ear.

"Did he call you Ashby?" I thought your name was Gray." She looked indignantly at Gray as Grace buttoned the final button of the rain coat she had taken from her own shoulders to place upon her aunt.

"Ashby Gray," corrected Gray, and by way of further explanation, added: "Ashby was my mother's maiden name."

"You don't mean that your mother was Amy Ashby who married Dr. Wellington Gray, the Boston clergyman?"

"Yes," smiled Gray, as the lady's manner melted into effusiveness. Five minutes later Mrs. Allison-Dodge was speeding alone toward the city to be let out at the fashionable Alhambra from an ordinary jitney. It suddenly occurred to Grace that Ashby might have given up important work to remain there with her.

"I feel that I've no right to accept such a sacrifice from you, Mr. Gray, and it is important for you to be back in town soon, don't let's wait another minute on account of the rain. I shan't mind how wet I get, for I haven't any rheumatism, and—" she met his smiling eyes with a frankly amused smile. "I haven't any wig."

"You don't have to tell me that," he said laughingly, as he looked admiringly at the bronze-colored mass of hair which the dampness had darkened from a bright copper color and had kinked each loose lock into a tight curl.

"Poor Aunt Clara; she'd never hinted a wig, and what is more, she never will. I'm glad she met friends with you before leaving, for now she will feel that her secret is in the hands of friends only, and—" Grace hesitated and Ashby added: "And therefore quite safe."

Grace telephoned her aunt as soon as she arrived at home.

"I'm home all safe, Aunt Clara; I thought you'd like to know."

"I'm delighted, dearie; and where is that nice Mr. Gray?"

"He's gone home to dry, but he's coming out this evening."

"Bring him over to call on me, won't you?"

"If it clears up, maybe; but there will be lots of other opportunities; Aunt Clara, for he is going to be your nephew."

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

BADGER PROHIBITIONISTS WILL FILE FOR PRIMARY

LA PRAIRIE

La Prairie, Feb. 29.—The L. A. S. of Shopware M. E. church met with Mrs. Frank Goodrich on Thursday for a farewell meeting and dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich will move to their farm near Delavan March 1. The ladies presented Mrs. Goodrich with a china cake plate as a token of remembrance. They have made many friends during their stay in this community and will be missed by all who knew them.

Mrs. Penton Rockwell spent Thursday in Rockford visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cuddabach entertained the Beavers Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kelm and family are moving to the farm vacated by Mr. Goodrich.

Miss Agnes Graham is spending a few days with Miss Tiphia, Maas of Belleville, Wis.

About seventy friends and neighbors gave a farewell party at the Grange hall Monday evening for Mrs. Mary Leary and family who will move to Janesville this week. A fine leather rocker was presented to them as a token of esteem and remembrance.

ALL MONROE ON THE MOVE; DELIVERY BOYS PUZZLED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Monroe, Wis., March 2.—The latter part of last week and the first part of this week has been a human checker board in Monroe. Everyone has been moving. There is hardly a block in the city but what the residents of a number of the homes have moved.

The reason of this is that a great many of the farmers in this vicinity have made their "pile" and are moving to town, while a large number of the residents of the city have been having new and modern residences erected. The many deliveries have had their effect upon the delivery men who have been forced to stop time and again to inquire who lives here and who lives there. Several young men calling upon their lady friends also experienced embarrassing moments.

NEW RULER FOR PEOPLE OF DUTCH INDIES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

The Hague, Netherlands, March 2.—A new ruler for the forty-five million inhabitants of the Dutch East Indies has just left for his post in the person of Count Johan Paul van Limburg.

The new general belongs to one of the most aristocratic Holland families. He studied at Leyden university, where he received the degree of doctor of laws. Entering the diplomatic service, he was soon recognized among the best of the corps. He was at different times served at the Dutch legations in Rome, Constantinople and Peking.

It was in these two latter capitals that he acquired what knowledge he possesses of Netherlands' Indian interests. Then up to the time of his appointment two or three months ago he was Dutch minister in the Scandinavian countries. On a previous visit to the East Indies, he is stated to have made a deep impression on high government circles, both by his personality and his correct insight, especially into Mohammedan affairs.

Just before his departure, the Count had lengthy conferences with the leaders of various important colonial enterprises and societies, and he was further entertained at a farewell banquet by Prince Henry of the Netherlands.

There was a distinguished company to see him off on his voyage, which has been made to much longer that usual by the fact that the Dutch mailboats now take the route around the Cape of Good Hope, instead of via the Suez Canal, owing to the war.

Willing to Oblige.

"Have you a stove lighter I could borrow?" asked the woman who had just moved in.

"I'm sorry to say I haven't, but my husband is a piano mover," suggested the woman next door.—Judge.

Believes That.

"Do you believe everything you hear?"

"No, but when I come to a railroad crossing and hear a whistle I never doubt that a train is coming."—Detroit Free Press.

Quick results—that's everybody's experience with want ads.

Spring Colonist Excursions to California and Arizona

Tickets on sale daily March 25 to April 14

from Chicago - $40.50 Kansas City 32.50

Modern tourist sleepers and chair cars on fast Santa Fe trains.

Personally conducted Tourist sleepers three times a week.

Fred Harvey meal service.

Also write to C. L. Seagraves, Gen. Colonization Art. 2201 Railway Bldg., Chicago, for Arizona and San Joaquin Valley land folders.

Write or call for details.

Geo. T. Gunnip, Gen. Agent, Ry. Exchange Bldg., 15 E. Jackson St., Chicago.

ENGLAND SHUTS OFF ANY TOBACCO IMPORTATION AND SMOKERS EXPRESS PROTEST

London, March 2.—Smokers undoubtedly were the worst frightened class in England recently when the government announced last night the absolute prohibition of tobacco importation into the British Isles.

The order reducing paper and other importations caused widespread interest, but the weekly paper, tobacco users were genuinely scared. They recovered part of their courage when tobaccoists announced there was a two years' supply of the weed in England. Nevertheless, a sharp increase in price is generally looked for, though the English press declare it can see no reason for it yet.

The big allies immediately began figuring on how to get down a paper famine basis. Arrangements were made for a committee to appropriate the supply to the various publications.

There was no question from the first, however, that the new order meant a reduction in the dailies' size, the damping of the previous flood of cheap books and the utmost economy by private individuals and retail merchants in the use of stationary for correspondence, envelopes, wrapping paper and other purposes.

Reduction in the supply of building materials seems unlikely to be seriously felt, building operations having been for the most part suspended since the beginning of the war. Restrictions on the sale of the cost of firewood practically prohibitive in the near future.

The embargo on fruits has been the cause of considerable criticism on the ground that such commodities are not luxuries but legitimate food. Comment has been especially bitter in circles interested in the South African fruit trade, which has been in process of being built up slowly for some time and is threatened now with ruin.

Of furniture and furniture woods and veneers there is said to be some supply on hand but nothing like enough to last two years, as in the case of tobacco, and the prediction generally made that furniture prices speedily will reach a prohibitive figure.

In part the new regulations are made with a view to compelling economy by the English people. It is conceded, however, that the main purpose is to leave more room in ships touching at English ports for foodstuffs and munitions.

The entire British mercantile marine being, in one way or another, under government control at present, there will be no difficulty in enforcing the new orders.

PORTLAND TEACHER WHO WANTED MODERN METHODS IN TEACHING BOUNCED

(JANESVILLE DAILY GAZETTE.)

Portland, Ore., Mar. 2.—J. Willis Jeffries believes formal grammar and rhetoric textbooks should be discarded from public schools. This belief, and the fact that Jeffries taught his English classes from the contents of current magazines and popular novels, constituted "evil influence, incompetence and insubordination" in the eyes of the Portland school board.

Today Professor Jeffries is out of a job, but his influence is still felt in Portland school circles. In the midst of his hearing before the board which by unanimous vote had disapproved his methods, Jeffries resigned. Since resigning Jeffries has spent most of his evenings lecturing about town on the subject of reforms in the teaching of English in high schools. "Forget your textbooks on grammar and rhetoric and learn English by reading Stevenson, modern authors and current literature," says Jeffries. "No great man ever condescended to write a textbook and the authors of technical texts on grammar and rhetoric are penny-a-liners compared with authors whose work is published in popular magazines." Formally charged with "evil influence, incompetence and insubordination," Jeffries publicly referred to his accusers as "crustaceans" and "troglobytes." After this hostility of other pedagogues against him was open.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies: Miss Thelma Chalmers, Miss M. Christian, Mrs. Ella Connel, Mrs. John K. Downs, Mrs. Susan Ford, Mrs. Henry Hill, Mrs. B. Kessler, Mrs. Pearl Quinn, Mrs. Sadie Scribner, Mrs. Anna Serbel, Mrs. Willis Tanberg.

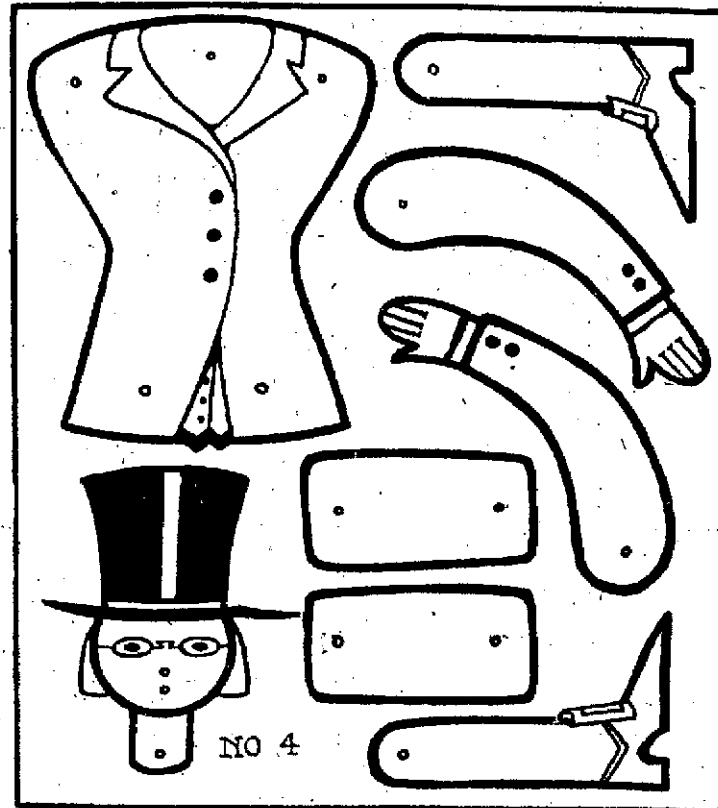

Gents: Henry Alberts, Will Bunk, B. E. Boyles, Thos. E. Cohen, Angle Fern, Geo. T. Ford, Leonard Hart, K. K. Hellerud, W. H. Holt, Sidney Krieger, Mr. and Mrs. Langdon, John Madigan, James Nichols, Jim Quinn, A. J. Raubenheimer.

Firms: J. H. Thomas & Son, J. J. CUNNINGHAM, Postmaster.

Watch the want ad page, if you are looking for bargains of any kind.

Conducted By A. S. Bennett

Something To Cut And Paste

The Foldover Family—No. 4

This is Father Foldover. Paste this drawing on a light-weight cardboard and when dry, color the different parts with your crayons or paints. You will find this easier to cut out, if you copy this drawing much larger on another piece of white paper before pasting. You know you are to get some older member of the family to get you some little brass paper fasteners, to put the parts together at the little holes marked upon them. If these cannot be had, use pins, bent down at the back.

Then when Father gets tired he can be folded up to appear as if lying down. He can be made to assume many funny positions.

Next week "Baby Foldover" will appear. Save all of your figures until the end of this series.

[Protected by The Adams Newspaper Service]

HIS PART

Meekly—Henrietta, how did I do? Mrs. Meekly—What do you mean? I'm the one that made the speech! Meekly—Yes; but I applauded. I wanted to know if I cheered in the right places.

Defeat. What is defeat? Nothing but education, nothing but the first step to something better.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, March 2.—The Junto club held an extra guest night meeting Monday evening at the city library, which was in charge of Miss Ella Hamilton. The guests included the city council and the library board and their wives and the members of the club, their husbands and guests. The play by Bernard Shaw entitled "The Man and Arms" was read by the following cast, and it certainly brought down the audience. C. W. Rittenberg, who took the part of the "Chocolate Cream Soldier," was exceptionally fine and E. G. Lange as Major Petkoff and Mrs. R. H. Dixon as Alma were also stars in the play. The others with their parts were Mrs. Lange as Catherine Petkoff, Harlow Smith, Nicola: Mrs. Rittenberg, Lourka; Mrs. Willard Smith, Sergius. Miss Charlotte Wood acted as stage manager.

Mrs. Harlow Smith is visiting her mother in Beloit. Her mother has recently returned from a western trip. Miss Belle Cleland has just returned from a visit with the James Peacocks at Oconomowoc. C. H. Cleland of Milton visited relatives Tuesday. Miss Lila Smith and her friend, Miss Cora Fairbanks, were here from Oconomowoc over Sunday.

A few friends spent a pleasant time at the home of Mrs. A. J. Wadleigh last evening. It was Mark Wadleigh's birthday.

Miss Frances Morton of Wauwatosa was a guest of Miss Nellie Coburn over Sunday.

Mrs. Frances Miller and little son left Tuesday evening for their home in Tyrrell, Iowa, after spending five weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ira Freeman.

Mrs. Peter Garberg of Judas Gap, Montana, and Mrs. Anna Beaverson of Minneapolis, Minn., are visiting at the home of Rev. N. C. A. Garness. The former is a cousin and the latter is the mother of Mrs. Garberg.

Rev. N. C. A. Garness is visiting in Wales today.

"The Mean Thing!" "Phyllis is the meanest kind of girl."

"What makes you think so?" "Because she never tells you anything herself, but gets you to tell her all you know."

For quick results try a want ad.

The Zig Zag Tag Means Tested and Guaranteed Portland Cement

Say to your dealer:

"Give me the bag With the ZIG ZAG TAG!"

Then you'll get a bag of the best quality

Portland Cement bearing a tag like this and the name

Marquette Portland Cement

For sale by

FIFIELD LUMBER CO.

Both phones 109.

Janesville, Wis.

Made by Marquette Cement Manufacturing Co. CHICAGO, ILLINOIS LA SALLE, ILLINOIS

Special Showing

Of The New COTTON

Wash Fabrics For 1916.

North Aisle.

To The Teachers

Of Rock County

Attending The Convention Here

The Big Store

Bids You Welcome

Make this store your headquarters. Meet your friends here; telephone them from our private booths; sit down and chat in our cozy rest room; check your personal baggage, no charge of any kind.

Now Madam, How About

Your New Spring Suit

or Coat

Hundreds of the newest creations are here for your inspection. Every one represents all that is new in Spring fashions. Exceptional values are being offered in Women's and Misses' Suits at $10, $16, $18, $20, $22 and $25. Many other models are being shown from $27 to $50.

Big Display of Women's and Misses New Spring

Coats

Without exaggeration the greatest and smartest variety we have ever shown. Every good style is here. Prices range from $5 to $35. Special showing of the new sport coats at prices ranging from $6 to $24.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS. JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN

A Big Shipment Of The New Spring Petticoats Just Received South Room.

New Spring Merchandise

The wealth of beautiful new goods that are pouring into this Store daily, fresh from the mills is amazing. Everything the newest, fresh as the verdant spring. It fairly makes one poetical to look over the array of new things. We are splendidly ready for the early buyer.

Visit our third floor dress section. Special showing in Gowns and Dresses for street, evening, theatre and party wear. The styles are so numerous that every woman is sure to find exactly the style that becomes her.

The New Spring Dress Fabrics

A fascinating bewildering of exquisite weaves in the charming new colors that have been pronounced correct for the coming season are all here.

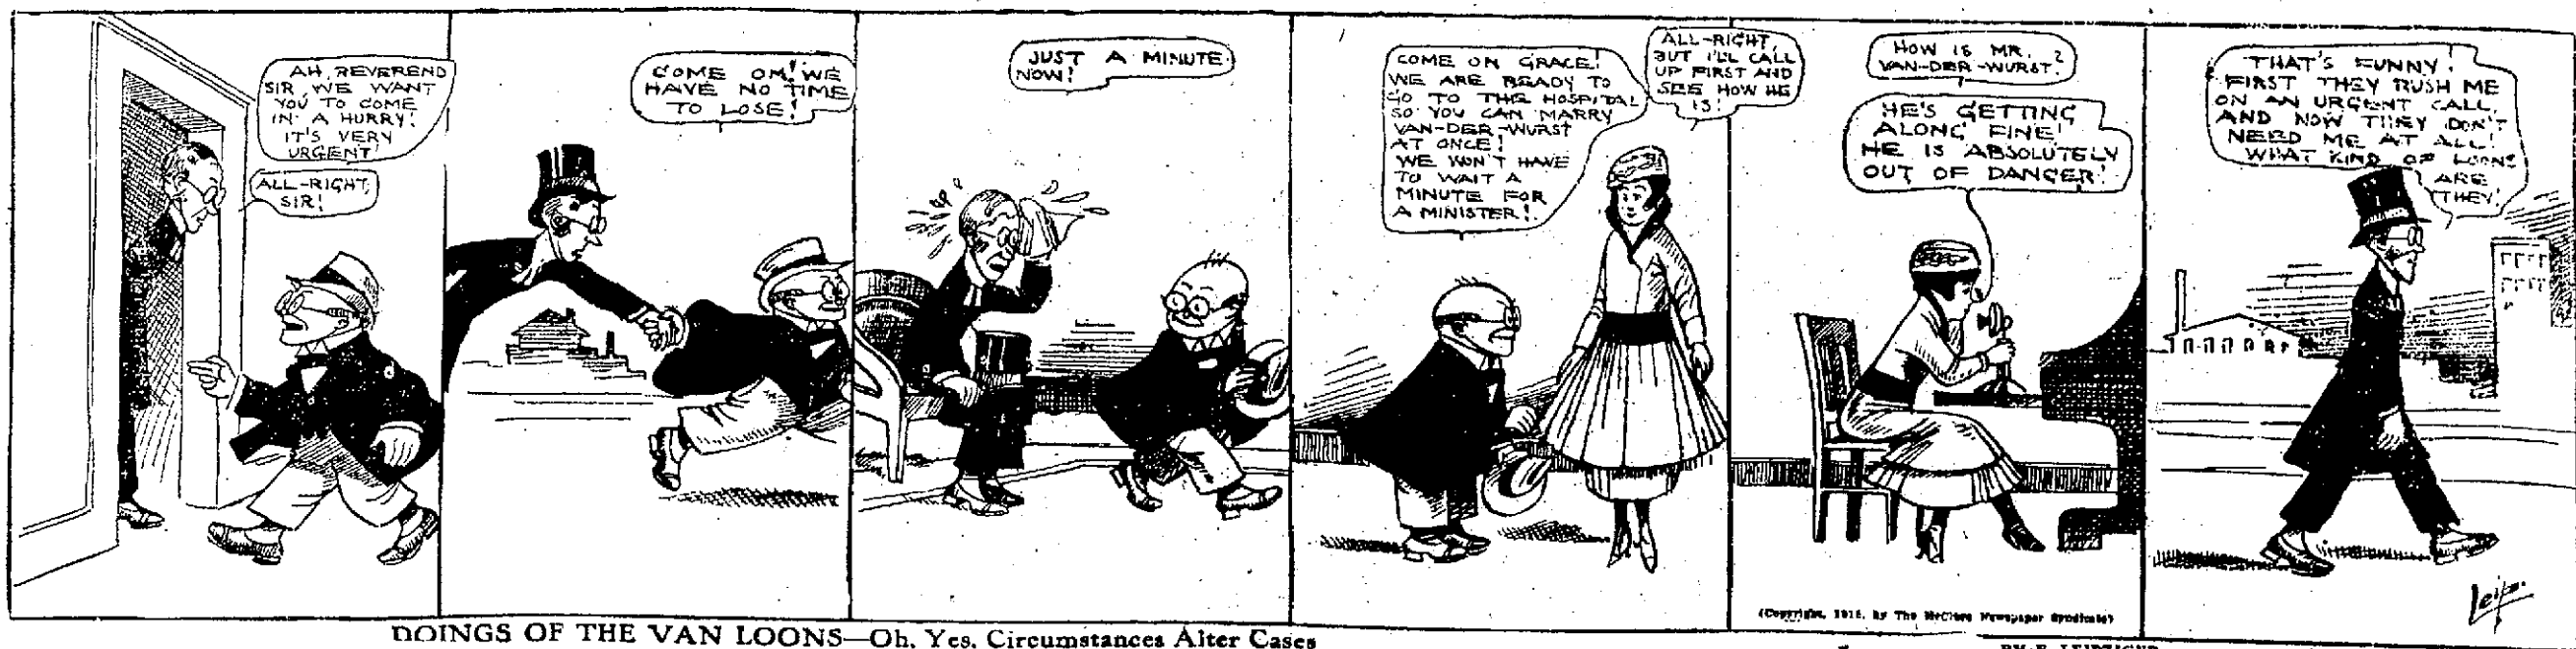

Handsome New Silks

A complete showing of the newest foreign and domestic silk fabrics, in the latest weaves, styles and colorings.

An almost endless display of beautiful new blouses, neckwear, ribbons, petticoats, undermuslins, embroideries, laces, trimmings, gloves, hosiery, hand bags, jewelry novelties and what not await your inspection.

Come To The Big Store of Plenty

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Oh, Yes, Circumstances Alter Cases

BY F. LEIPZIGER

Inevitable.
Husband—Why do you ask Mr. Hobson to every one of your dinners? Who wants him?
Wife—The cook. He is the only friend of ours whom she likes.—St. Louis Republic.

THE GREATEST HEALTH INSURANCE IN THE WORLD

T. P. Taylor, Prominent Louisville Druggist, Makes Interesting Statement

T. P. TAYLOR

"The greatest health insurance in the world is the simplest," he said. "I never could quite understand why people are so negligent in the use of the simplest of all preventives of illness. It's all a matter of keeping the bowels open. The man who carries a little box of Rexall Ordinaries has got a good health policy in his pocket. I believe they are the best laxative ever prepared, and their pleasant taste appeals to men, women and children alike."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative.

SMITH DRUG CO.
THE REXALL STORE

A DAGGER IN THE BACK

That's the woman's dread when she gets up in the morning to start the day's work. "Oh! how my back aches." GOLD MEDAL Haarlum Oil Capsules taken today eases the backache of tomorrow—taken every day ends the backache for all time. Don't delay. What's the use of suffering? Begin taking GOLD MEDAL Haarlum Oil Capsules today and be relieved tomorrow. Take three or four every day and be permanently free from wrenching, distressing back pain. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Since 1898 GOLD MEDAL Haarlum Oil has been the National Remedy of Holland, the Government of the Netherlands having granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale. The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without bread as she would without her "Real Dutch Drops" as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlum Oil Capsules. This is the one reason why you will find the women and children of Holland so sturdy and robust.

GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original Haarlum Oil Capsules imported direct from the laboratories in Haarlum, Holland. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. Look for the name on every box. Sold by reliable druggists in sealed packages at 25c, 50c and $1.00. Money refunded if they do not help you. Accept only the GOLD MEDAL. All others are imitations.

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, try this simple recipe. Store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Put the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 34 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a cost of 82¢ a day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Slightly prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Works perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and beats the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in quinine, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Home A NOVEL

By GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN

Copyright by The Century Co.

"Now," said Kemp, "I didn't have nothing to go on. But one day a drummer feller that I was stagin' across the White Mountains gave me a plant magazine, and it had an article on commercial orchids with pictures in colors. They was mostly kinder pup'lish an' I reckon it was that what got me started. It was the foreman poltin' out my mount to me an' I didn't lose no time. I dropped my rope on him an' I've been ridin' him ever since."

"Found any purple cities?"
"Not rightly. I seen 'em—more'n once. But I guess purple cities is always you side the mountain. You can't jest ride up an' put your brand on 'em. They're born mavericks and they die mavericks. An' I say, good luck to 'em." Kemp rose, tossed away his cigarette and stood leaning with crooked elbow and knee against a veranda pillar. His keen aquiline features and deep-set eyes were lit up by the moonlight and seemed scarcely to belong to his great, loose-jointed frame. He was loose-jointed but like a nail—strong and tough. "There's one thing about the purple cities," he added, "the daylight always beats you to 'em jest like in the po'm." He turned and went off to bed.

Gerry sat on in the moonlight seized by a strange sadness—the sadness the spirit feels under the troubled hovering of the unattainable and the mirage. Life had queer turns. Why should a cowboy start out to look for purple cities? It was grotesque on the face of it but, beneath the face of it, it was not grotesque.

Margarita stole out to seat herself beside him. She slipped her hand into his. She was worried. She was always worried when Gerry's thoughts were far away. "The Man," she said, for thus she had christened her baby boy from the day of his birth, "the Man sleeps. He cried for thee and thou didst not come. So he slept, for he is a man."

Gerry's thoughts came back to his little kingdom. He sighed and then he smiled a smile of content. "It is late then, my flower?" He put his arm around her. "Let us go to bed, for tomorrow there is work."

"Tomorrow there is always work," said Margarita. "I am not afraid of work, Gerry. The end of work never comes. It is the things that end that make me afraid." She, too, had felt the fluttering wings of the unattainable. Unknowingly she stood beneath the shadow of the stranger's purple city's walls.

The next day Kemp tried honestly to help Gerry with the tilling of the soil but the effort was still-born. Kemp had almost forgotten how to walk and his high-heeled boots fell foul of every hummock. He wandered off to the house with solemn face. When Gerry came in to the midday meal, he found him with a saddle propped on the arm of a bench giving the delighted swaddled heir to Fazenda Flores his first lesson in equitation.

That night they sat again on the veranda steps but Kemp was not talkative. He whittled a stick until it disappeared in a final curly shaving and then immediately started on a fresh one.

"Knows Lieber long?" asked Gerry at last.

"Goin' on two years," replied Kemp. "Does he live off his stock?"

Kemp looked up. "Haven't you ever been up to Lieber's?"

"No," said Gerry. "It's two years since I came here and I've never been off the place. Lieber's been down here a couple of times."

Kemp grunted but asked no further question. "Lieber," he said, "certainly don't live off his stock—he plays with it. Lieber is the goatskin king. Ships 'em by the thousand bales. If you or any other man in these parts was to sell a goatskin away from Lieber, you'd be boycotted. Lieber on this range is God—you're fer him or you're ag'in him an' there ain't b'en any one ag'in him for some spell now."

"Oh," said Gerry.

"As fer knowin' him," continued

CHAPTER XX

Lieber, accompanied by two herders, came early for his stock. He greeted Kemp warmly. "Going my way?" he asked.

"I've been around here with that in mind," drawled Kemp. "I'll take a hand if you'll allow me a mount."

"You can take your pick," said Lieber, "that is, after Mr. Lansing has had his."

The three of them walked into the pasture. Lieber looked at the stock with kindling eyes. He turned to Gerry and held out his hand. "Shake," he said, and Gerry did. "What do you say to the first five of the horses out and the last ten of the cattle for your share?"

Gerry flushed. "That's more than fair," he said. "You know the best of the horses will lead the bunch and the fattest of the cattle will lag behind. You see, they're all strong now."

"That's just it," said Lieber.

Kemp had gone off to round up his mule. He came up from the river driving it before him. At every jump he caught the mule a flick with his rope and the mule kicked and squealed but came on with long, stiff-legged strides. "Hi!" yelled Kemp and snatched off his hat to beat his mount while he kept the rope-end flicking over the mule.

Gerry and Lieber laughed. Kemp was like a mummy come to sudden life. "Do you know what?" said Gerry. "I think I'll come along with you." He led the iron-gray out by his forelock and old Bonifacio hurried to help bridge and saddle him. Lieber mounted his stallion and turned the horses as they came out. Kemp suddenly sobered down to business. When Lieber had thrown back the last ten of the cattle, Kemp came out and closed the gap behind him.

"I think I'll go ahead with the horses," said Lieber.

"You go and take 'em men with you," said Kemp. "I could drive this fat bunch from here to Kansas with nary a hand to spell me."

Gerry had expected a surprise of some sort when at last he arrived at Lieber's but the things he saw there, stranger than anything he could have imagined, left him calm and unmoved as though some presence had prepared him. The house was built on the usual solid lines of plantation headquarters. Great, rough-hewn beams; towering rafters, bolted to carry the heavy tiles and to bear their burden for generations; unceiled, vast rooms with calcined walls; all these were not outside Gerry's experience in the new land. The strangeness came with the rugs and the linen, the etchings and the furniture, and last and most significant, the shelves and shelves of books and the tables piled with magazines in three languages. Everything bore the stamp of quality, everything had the distinction of a choice.

"Thou Hast Been Away a Long Time."

Gerry did not let his curiosity carry him beyond a rapid glance around the great living-room where they found Lieber, bathed and freshly dressed, superintending the making of ice in the latest ingenious contrivance for the pampering of the pioneer. "Ice water in the desert," thought Gerry and the phrase seemed to him more than words—it seemed to paint Lieber dimly, but as the mind saw him.

The veranda at Lieber's was like that of Fazenda Flores only much bigger. It looked out upon a wide stretch of desert but away at the rim of the desert one could feel the river. The roar of the falls mumbled in the ear. It came from so far away that one had to strain one's ears to actually define it. After supper they gathered on the veranda. They sat in rude, rawhide chairs which were comfortably strong and tilted them back to the national angle. Lieber and Gerry smoked corn-busk cigarettes but Kemp stuck to his yellow papers. Gerry did not want to talk. He sat where he could watch the strange pair whose companion he was for a night. Into the souls of Lieber and Kemp the long silences of solitude had entered and become at home. They were patient of silence. Speech had its restricted uses. They still had their bats on. Lieber's was pushed back. Kemp's was drawn forward. Kemp was whittling. Kemp's words of farewell came back to Gerry. "It's a long trail from the Alamo to New York, but the whole country's under one fence." Texan, Pennsylvania Dutchman and New Yorker might be social poles but to night they seemed strangely near to each other.

The next morning Gerry was up early, nervous after his first night's absence from Fazenda Flores. Kemp watched him saddle his horse. "That ain't one of the five," he remarked.

"No," said Gerry. "I traded the roan for the iron-gray. Do you think I was done?"

"I ain't sayin'," said Kemp cautiously. "I don't want you should think I was teachin' you, Mr. Lansing, but that boss ain't no iron-gray. There ain't no such color for a boss as I ever heern tell on. That boss is a blue an' he's a true blue."

"All right, Kemp," said Gerry, smiling. "You've named him true blue and True Blue he is from this day."

Lieber came out in pyjamas and called them for coffee. When they were seated he proposed to Kemp that he make his headquarters at the ranch for a while. The advantages were evident. It was a congregating point for the natives from miles round. Goatskins came into Lieber's from hundreds of miles up country. They came singly, in donkey loads or in whole packtrains. Sometimes they passed directly into his hands from the producer; sometimes they ran through a chain of transfers, from hand to hand. All news centered at and radiated from Lieber's. The same men that brought in goatskins would be glad to add orchids to their stock in trade.

Kemp grunted his thanks. He had waited two years for this offer. The realization of the obligation Lieber was putting him under was pressed him. He began to talk. "These," he said, "take a lot of teachin' sometimes, an' sometimes they don't. For instance, you can tell 'em that Cattleyas are worth money and that the rest of their parasites ain't, and after they see you throw Bu'lintonias an' Oncidium an' Miltonias into the discard for three months steady, they begin to sober down to jest Cattleyas and realize that it's no use holdin' a four-dash against a workin' pair."

At the scientific names dropping so inconspicuously from Kemp's lips, Gerry stopped eating and looked up. Lieber's face wore the smile of one who had heard it before but is quite willing to hear it all over again.

"But," continued Kemp, "you can't pull till you're bilin' an' you can't head 'em around to see that unless a Cattleya has eight leaves, it's too young to be packed an' no good to the market besides bein' a victim to race suicide. As to their bringin' in Bu'lintonias an' Oncidium an' Miltonias, I never get onpauent o' that. How c'n a greaser ever learn that a Miltonia Spectabilis Morelliana that looks like pigeon's blood in a purple shadow ain't a commercial proposition, while the Cattleyas is? When he's in the woods an' a small straight I'm heaven draps its rope on him an' he looks up an' sees a droopin' spike o' snow, how you go in' to teach him that a Bu'lintonia Fragrans ain't just as good business as a Labiata?"

"Time was when orchids was an ambition; now they's jest a business. In Eurap, it's some different. They's collectors hankerin' after new varieties an' houses that keeps men lookin' for 'em but in America, you make me, if an orchid don't make up well on the missus' bodice or on the table, it ain't business; an' they's a few million children growin' up to the idea that if it ain't a Cattleya it ain't an orchid."

Kemp came to himself, blushed and hurried out as if on urgent business. Lieber looked at Gerry's thoughtful face and smiled. "Who'd have thought he'd ever talk that way in daylight?" he said.

"I think," replied Gerry, "it was your offering to let him make this place his headquarters. It rattled him and started him off. I could see he was grateful."

"Perhaps that was it," said Lieber. "He's a queer one. He never asked me. It just occurred to me to suggest it because I'm getting to enjoy having Kemp around."

(To be continued.)

ABE MARTIN

Some folks are so sensitive that they feel snubbed if an epidemic overlooks 'em. It's a lucky girl that's got a little sister's clothes 'n' wear these days.

ALLCOCK PLASTERS
The World's Greatest External Remedy.
Pain in Side, Rheumatism, Backache, Any Local Pain.
Instant on Having ALLCOCK'S.

The Household Remedy for the ailments from which almost everyone sometimes suffers—sick headache, constipation, disturbed sleep, muddy complexion, lassitude, backache, depression and other results of a disordered digestive system—is

BEECHAM'S PILLS

They have achieved the distinction of being the most widely used medicine in the world, because millions of people have found them dependable, speedy and sure in their action on stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Compounded from vegetable products, Beecham's Pills are free from harmful minerals and dangerous drugs. They do not promote the physic habit—do not irritate the bowels. Should be taken by every member of the family at the first sign of illness—so mild and effective that they are good for the aged, and for the ills of childhood, are

Safe for Children

Directions of Special Value to Women with Every Box. Sold by druggists throughout the world. In boxes, 10c, 25c.

Dinner Stories

The hobo had just been forced to have a bath before being allowed to lodge at the municipal lodging house. "Well, what have you to say now?"

"Inquired the attendant as the previously unkempt individual emerged much disgusted. The hobo glared. "Water," he remarked, solemnly, "is the curse of bathtubs."

At a meeting of the homing club one of the members related this interesting experience. He had, he said, recently sold a couple of "squakers"—very young pigeons—to a man whose cote was two hundred miles away. He sent them off by train, and was astonished to find them back in the old cote a couple of days later.

There was profound silence, broken at length by the resident's "Wonderful!"

"You doubt my word?" demanded the narrator of the story. "Not a bit of it," was the reply. "It's a strange coincidence, that's all. I sent the very same man a sitting of eggs in the middle of June. Before the end of the month those birds had hatched out and had flown back to me! Homing instinct is a wonderful thing!"

A country doctor, walking out one day with a Highlander who boasted he was a staunch teetotaler, resolved to put him to the test. Passing a hotel he asked him in and ordered two glasses of whisky. After they had "shifted" these and two or three more at the doctor's expense, his friend began to get a wee bit "glib" of the gab. The doctor then, feeling he had him, bluntly asked: "How does this square w' your teetotal pretensions?"

"Weel," quoth John, with a quick smile, though I'm a staunch teetotaler, I'd be a fule to refuse what the doctor orders."

Light on Ma. Little Brother—Mr. Poseyboy, won't you go and stand before the window? Poseyboy—Certainly, my little man, but why? Little Brother—Oh, my, ays she can see through you. I wad see if I can.

Keeps Your Stove Shining Bright

Black Silk Stove Polish

Get a Can TODAY

BREAK UP BRONCHIAL COUGHS, CROUP AND COLDS PROMPTLY

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents.

Don't neglect your cold, cough or any other Bronchial affection, but commence treatment immediately, and through using the proper medicine, it can be checked from the very start and promptly cured. What if it be neglected probably will hang on all spring; if it does not develop into something more serious, such as Pneumonia or Consumption. True, there are hundreds, yes thousands of cough remedies on the market. While some are good, there are many which are not, but are positively harmful, due to the narcotics which they contain. But why experiment with these different remedies purely on the strength perhaps of some testimonials or on the exaggerated claims of manufacturers, when Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant is sold by Smith's Pharmacy on such a positive guarantee to give perfect satisfaction, yes even more money will be refunded by them if it is not found the best remedy ever used in Severe Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough or Croup, and it will also be found excellent for Bronchial Asthma and Bronchitis. Besides these drugs, Schiffmann's "What it will be the best remedy ever used." It will likewise be found the most economical, because one bottle (50 cents' worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) of the most excellent medicine for any of the above affections, when mixed at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. It makes as much, or more, than would cost you $2.00 to $3.00 of almost any of the ordinary ready-made kinds, sold in glass bottles holding only 24 to 32 teaspoonfuls. You will be the sole judge yourself and under the same positive "Money Back" guarantee which the druggists make for the famous Asthmador. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy.

The Value of Newspapers to the National Advertiser

By H. T. Wheelock, Advertising Manager
Valie Motor Vehicle Company

National medium advertising serves the purpose of introducing and creating a desire for a commodity in the minds of the people at large.

Newspaper advertising, simply from its local interest standpoint, intensifies that desire in the mind of the individual, and adds to the possibility of placing him in direct touch with the article to be sold.

The best qualification of a good salesman is his ability to "repeat." Advertising is salesmanship in its widest form, and its ability to bring good returns and "repeat" requires a truthful portrayal of the product advertised and demands a quality in the goods themselves which will guarantee continued satisfaction to the buyer.

The newspapers, particularly those which purge their columns of untruthful advertising, serve the national advertiser to the fullest extent in obtaining the confidence of the local consumer—a confidence which is never betrayed by good goods truthfully advertised.

The newspaper further serves the national advertiser in permitting concentration in any desired field, in extending personal support to the local dealer and in the display of timely copy without the sometimes costly hindrance of a delayed closing date.

Without the newspaper to personalize his work the national advertiser would be seriously handicapped, if not thwarted altogether.

SEES NO DANGER OF A FOREIGN INVASION

GEN. NELSON A. MILES RIDICULES
IDEA THAT INVADER COULD LAND IN AMERICA.

NEED EFFICIENT ARMY

Declares That Small, Well-Organized and Equipped Force of 150,000
Would be Sufficient for Protection.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, March 2.—A regular army of 150,000 men organized to the minute and readily capable of expansion under the same officers into an army of 400,000 on a fighting footing, with the National Guard organized on identical lines, and an ample number of submarines and seaplanes, constitute the fundamentals of the preparedness plan of Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, veteran of the Civil war, Indian fighter and one time commanding general of the army.

General Miles is confident that under his plan the peace strength of the regular army could be expanded into the war strength "without adding a single officer or a single regiment."

"This is no new theory," said the general in explaining his plan to a congressional committee. "It is the result of years of observation, not only in our country, but in the requirements and condition of our people, his experience and observation in every other army of the world."

"I am sure that it would be the most economical and the most effective organization that could be adopted by our government. It would also be capable of expanding into a military force of 400,000 men. This need only be done as the revenues of the government would warrant. If you have the system and organization, and fill it up from the bottom you have all the military experience and skill available to be used in the most effective manner."

"It would require no special or extraordinary increases of taxes upon the people, or additional burdens. Of course, as you changed the organization there would be changes at the bottom of the list, which would have to be filled either from West Point or from the army or from civil life. The additional number of second lieutenants that would be required by this change, I recommend be appointed from the states and congressional districts in the course of four years. The same number of appointments now being made in West Point and Annapolis. This system would be purely American, and there is nothing to indicate that a larger military force would be required in the near future and I hope never in the distant future."

"With the perfected organization there would be no difficulty in securing the necessary men in case of invasion or danger of invasion. You could pick the men back. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war we asked for only 100,000 volunteers, but because of patriotic ardor we actually enlisted 400,000 men. Only 52,000 of these were sent out of the country before it became apparent that peace was soon coming."

"It is true that I have no fear of a foreign invader landing on our shores in large force. The placing of an army on American soil is the last thing any government would attempt. It could never be re-embarked. It would dissolve like snow beneath the mid-day sun. Whenever it has been attempted it has resulted in disaster. Many of the soldiers deserted in Mexico and are now citizens of the republic."

"An enemy, to make any show of strength, must land 400,000 men and 50,000 horses. All the means of transportation and munitions of war required, with supplies enough to feed the men and animals for at least ten days, because it would be easy to burn their ships. Their army, then, supporting our own navy at the bottom of the sea, it might be possible for an invader to reach our shore. It would require a tremendous amount of transportation to embark an army of 400,000 men and 50,000 horses, together with all equipment and supplies. If such an army should land, the ships that brought them could not be destroyed by the patriot ship and valor of the American people before they could be sent back for another load, then I would want to live in some other country."

WILL FIRE ON PEOPLE WHO DISPLAY A LIGHT DURING ZEPPELIN RAID

London, March 2.—Following the Zeppelin raid on the midland counties this notice was posted in a Lincolnshire town:

"In the future, any person seen displaying a light or letting off any sort of rocket or fireworks when hostile aircraft are present or expected will be fired on without notice."

"No man fabric has grown up around the Zeppelin raids that it is impossible to tell whether or not there is any basis of fact to the stories of spies communicating with the invaders by means of signal lights. After every raid a crop of stories appears about mysterious motorcars with a brilliant upturned light concealed in the body. These stories are well vouched for but always come by hearsay."

One arrest, however, did result in Lincolnshire after the raid. Walter John Bott, a commercial traveler for the Lincolnshire police court on the charge of displaying a light in such a manner as to serve as a signal during the raid. Witnesses said that Bott flashed a powerful electric torch in the street after the raid. He was charged with some passers-by to a drink and used the light in filling a glass. The authorities took the view that to display a light of any sort at such a time was a serious matter."

Thousands of cases reported to the police by well-meaning persons turn out to be too absurd to investigate. People who forget to pull their blinds down after turning on the lights, or the dumb bell or Indian club exercises in full view of the street are offenders in trouble. The fact that their movements could not be seen by a couple of hundred yards away from their own homes is no excuse. But regulations about keeping the blinds down are strictly enforced. In the seacoast the sign of light is allowed to escape from the seaward side of a house."

In the midland counties, lighting is now much more strictly regulated than before the raid. One large manufacturing town upon news of Zeppelins shut off all street lights, tied up the street car service and closed all factories except two, which refused to discontinue their night shifts. After a few hours, when all seemed to be safe, the street cars resumed running, and the lights from their trolley poles evident. A few more hours and a number of bombs were dropped on the town in quick succession. The only two factories to suffer were those that remained open."

Every piece of clean cloth, large enough for a pillow, rag or a towel, is made of free from hooks and buttons, will bring money to you if you deliver at the Gazette.

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT TRAINING BOYS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Washington boys learning the art of war.

The school boys of Washington have taken up the study of national defense and keen "war games" are being waged weekly between opposing teams of the high schools. This is a picture of one of these "war games" being fought under the observation of Lieut. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., attached to the general staff, who has been detailed to this work by the war department. Lieut. Steever has four classes a week in military maneuvers with the boys and they march, countermarch and hurl their armies at each other just as the veterans do in the war councils. The boys are from fourteen to eighteen years of age.

POLITICAL "EXPERTS" MISSING THIS YEAR

Washington Has to Get Along Without Services of Political "Hangers-on."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, March 2.—Washington is wondering what has become of her wandering boys. "The boys" usually show up in January preceding a Presidential election, loaded with campaign buttons, speeches and imperishable literature favoring some candidate who is not only willing but anxious to save his country from the wolves of the opposition.

Four years ago there was a notable reunion of "the boys." Taft and Roosevelt overshadowed most other candidates on the Republican side but in the Democratic field the race was open to new entries right up to convention time, and the entries came thick and fast to the last minute. Every night or so some new candidate took a flying dive into the heap of self-sacrificing heroes willing to give up their important private affairs to serve the public.

Wilson, Clark, Harmon, Underwood, Gaynor—a host, in fact, put themselves in the hands of their friends. Few were the hotels that were not booked, or could not admit they were headquarters for some one or eighteen of the candidates. Washington was headquarters for ex and prospective office holders, publicity men and press agents. At any time after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, an outsider who braved the storm of argument that enveloped the cobwebby interior of the historic bay where solons and others gather could persuade himself that the Presidential chair would have to be a community affair, and that White House turned into an apartment building to accommodate the "bosses" who were going to be elected.

But this year "the boys" have not shown up.

Those of the Democrats who would be willing to succeed Mr. Wilson as the pilot of the Ship of State are hanging bashfully in the background waiting for encouragement that doesn't, at the present time, seem likely to arrive. Until Theodore Roosevelt is down in black and white and up in arms, until his hat is in the ring and his Big Stick swinging, or until he is definitely settled the other way, the many of the Republican martyrs who would be willing to run and save the United States are likewise hanging back.

It looks rather bad for the boys. It takes some time to launch a good publicity bureau. Unless they get an early start, the succession of primaries makes impossible the important early claims to the general state. Any evening in February, 1912, for instance, a ceruleous reader would have had to shoot dice with himself to find which of ten candidates could be believed when he proved himself a liar and without fear of successful contradiction that he would get the solid delegation to Baltimore or Chicago.

Few persons in Washington know just what is wrong this year. Very much except the hotel proprietors, the restaurateurs and the several hundred newspaper correspondents. Principally the newspaper correspondents. It was a sad day in the old years when a newspaper correspondent didn't get enough campaign literature to paper a room large enough to house most of the Presidential aspirants. And this is a sad year, but so far they have managed to bear up under the strain.

ASSOCIATE Y. M. C. A. WITH NATIONAL GUARD FOR MILITARY TRAINING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Topeka, Kansas, March 2.—Closer co-operation between the Kansas National Guard and the Young Men's Christian associations with a view to securing better military training for the young men of the state was the aim of a mass meeting here tonight. Governor Arthur Capper, General C. I. Martin, adjutant general of the Kansas National guard; Captain John M. Hite, of Battery A, K. N. G., and George H. Hayes, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Topeka, unfolded the plan to young men at the mass meeting.

The proposal is to offer a course in military training in the department of physical training of the Y. M. C. A. and to have the National guard recruit its members from these trained young men. It was pointed out that such a plan would increase the efficiency of the National guard and at the same time help increase the membership in the Y. M. C. A. This is the first time such a program has been proposed in any state, it was announced.

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN.

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They were subject to croup from babies on. It is a safe and reliable medicine for men and women as well as children. Don't let the cough that follows grippe hang on and weaken you. It is easier to get rid of a cough or cold than of its consequences."—W. T. Sherer.

SAY BRITON'S WIFE AIDS U. S. PLOTTER

"Dr." J. Grant Lyman.

"Dr." J. Grant Lyman, who is being sought by the federal authorities on a charge of swindling investors in mining stock out of $300,000 or $400,000 by illegal use of the mails under the name of John H. Putnam, has been engaged in German propaganda, according to a statement made by postoffice inspectors. It is charged he has been supplying Berlin with information obtained from the wife of an English army officer, said to be a member of the British general staff serving in France.

Second Thoughts.

Mr. Gnaggs—Suppose you women think second thoughts are best. Mrs. Gnaggs—Not always. You may remember I refused you the first time you asked me to marry you.—Philadelphia Record.

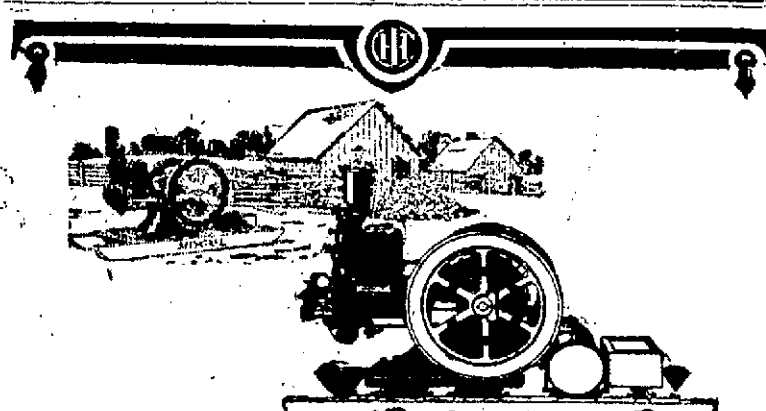

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day; our word for it, they'll surely pay.

FOND DU LAC MAY PURCHASE LOG BUILDING FOR PARK

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 2.—The log building which was a part of the Union hotel in this city in early days, may be purchased by the city and placed in one of the public parks. The logs in the cabin are of solid oak and are as firm and solid as they were when cut about 80 years ago. The building was first located at Tayedah where it was known as the Knight hotel but was later removed across the lake to this city.

Does It Run On Kerosene?

THE most important feature of a farm power engine today is the fuel it uses.

That, more than anything else, determines its usefulness and economy.

At present prices of gasoline and kerosene, you could not afford to accept a gasoline engine as a gift, if you had to use it.

You could better afford to pay a big premium for a Mogul kerosene engine.

See the Mogul work on kerosene. Ask your dealer to show you the difference in fuel cost between a Mogul in any size from 1 to 50-H. P., and a gasoline engine of the same size. The figures will surprise you.

International Harvester Company of America (Incorporated)

Mogul kerosene engines are sold by

NITSCHER IMPLEMENT CO.
Janesville, Wis.

ASHCRAFT'S

Annual March Clearance Sale of Furniture

The Greatest Furniture Event of the Year

Now is your opportunity to save money on needed pieces of furniture of the best quality. Our large stock scattered throughout three broad floors here has been decisively cut in price; the savings are yours; the biggest furniture event of the entire year. If you are going to need furniture any time within the next six months, order now for future delivery.

Viking Book Cases

Start with a section and build as your library grows.

$3.00 Sections at	$2.50	$3.50 Sections at	$3.00
$4.00 Sections at	$3.50	$4.50 Sections at	$4.00
$5.00 Sections at	$4.50	$5.50 Sections at	$5.00

Hanson Tables

The best quality Dining Room Tables made anywhere.

$40.00 Tables at	$32.00	$25.00 Tables at	$21.00
$30.00 Tables at	$25.00	A good table at	$15.00

Brass Beds

Smooth, satiny finish brass beds that will not tarnish.

$35 Brass Beds	$27.50	$30.00 Brass Beds	$22.50
$28.00 Brass Beds	$20.00	$24.00 Brass Beds	$18.75
$18 Brass Beds	$14.00	$15.00 Brass Bed	$12.00
$13.00 Brass Beds	$10.50	$12 Brass Bed	$ 9.00

Mattress Bargains

The greatest mattress bargains ever offered in this city.

$16 Mattress at	$12.00	$12 Mattress at	$8.00
------------------	---------	------------------	--------

Special Lines Included

The following well-known advertised trade-marked goods handled exclusively by this store and included in this sale are:

KARPEN LEATHER GOODS, KELLY COMFORT CHAIRS, STEARNS-FOSTER MATTRESSES, VIKING BOOKCASES, HEYWOOD-WAKEFIELD REED GOODS, HANSON TABLES, McDOUGAL KITCHEN CABINETS.

Karpen Parlor Furniture

The kind that has a national reputation for high quality.

Large Overstuffed Chair and Rocker to match, genuine leather, sale price:
Chair	$16.00; Rocker $16.50
Large Turkish Rocker, genuine leather upholstered, regular $30 value, sale price	$23.50
Large Rocker, upholstered in leather, oak frame, regular value, $18.00; sale price	$12.75
Large Rocker, upholstered in genuine black leather, regular value, $22.00; sale price	$16.75

Carriages For Baby

Large Reed Carriages, reversible bodies; best made.

$30.00 Reed Carriages now	$25.00	$25 Reed Carriages now	$20.00
$28 Reed Carriages now	$23.00	$20 Reed Carriages now	$17.00

Carts as low as $2.00 each.

Really a double saving on these carriages at the prices quoted. The price of Reed has advanced enormously and these were bought before the advance.

Rugs For the Home

$30 Velvet Rugs, 9x12, now	$24.00
$28 Velvet Rugs, 9x12, now	$22.00
$25 Velvet Rugs, 9x12, now	$18.75
$28 Axminster Rugs, 9x12, now	$22.50
$26 Axminster Rugs, 9x12, now	$20.50
$24 Axminster Rugs, 9x12, now	$16.00
$30 Body Brussels Rugs, 9x12, now	$24.50

W. H. ASHCRAFT

Furniture, Rugs and Undertaking

104 W. Milwaukee St. Both Phones

FRED A. EGGERT

JOHNSTOWN, WISCONSIN

FORCED TO SELL

On account of illness in my family I have decided to close out and sell EVERYTHING in my store, consisting of Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes and Hardware at cost or less, as we wish to move away in three weeks. To do this I have contracted with the T. K. Kelly Sales Co., Minneapolis, Minn., recognized as the greatest sale conductors in the country, to take this stock and dispose of same as soon as possible. They are now on the ground marking down prices and arranging the store for the greatest selling event ever held in this vicinity. Every article must be sold; the fixtures are for sale; also buildings or for rent. Sale starts

SATURDAY, MARCH 4TH, And Closes When Everything Is Sold

Gents' Furnishings

Men's Rockford Hose, 10c value, to close out	6c
Men's large red and blue Handkerchiefs, 10c value, go at	6c
Men's and Youths 75c Sweater Coats, grey only, to close	39c
Men's $1.00 and $1.25 Overalls, all must go, this sale	79c
Men's $1.25 plain and fancy Dress Shirts, to close out	79c
Men's 50c and 75c Mittens, extra heavy leather faced go at	39c
One lot of Boys' and Children's Caps, value to 75c, close out	19c
Men's cashmere and fine lisle Hose, 35c value at	19c
Men's 50c Balbriggan Underwear, spring stock, go in at	36c
Youth's Dress Shirts, 75c and $1 values to close out	39c
Men's Trousers, values up to $2.25 to close out	98c
Men's heavy fleeced Underwear, 50c value	33c
Men's $1.50 Mocha and kid dress Glove, to close out	79c
Men's linen and celluloid Collars, 15c value, go at	2c
Boys' Suspenders, 25c value, go in this sale at	9c
Men's Suspenders, extra heavy, 50c value, close at	29c

Shoes and Overshoes

Men's $4.50 English Dress Shoe, comes black and tan	$2.98
Men's $3.50 Dress Shoes, all nobby styles, close out	$2.29
Men's $3.50 work Shoes in black or tan, close out	$2.29
Men's $2.75 work Shoe, black and tan, new stock	$1.98

Ladies' fine dress Shoes, $3.50 value, close out	$2.29
Ladies' $3.00 dress Shoes, new spring styles, go at	$1.98
Ladies' Slippers values up to $2.50, close out	98c
Boy's $3.00 dress Shoes button or lace, to close out	$2.19
Boy's every day Shoe and a bargain at $2.25, go at	$1.59
Children's Shoes, $2.25 value, to close out	$1.29
One lot of children's Shoes, values up to $1.50, go at	79c
Shipment of Spring Tennis Shoes, sell regularly at $1.25 go at	79c

Men's 4 buckle Overshoes, $3.00 value, to close out	$2.19
Men's one buckle Overshoes, regular $2.25 value, go at	$1.39
Boy's one buckle Overshoes, sells regular at $1.35, close out	98c
Ladies' one buckle Overshoe, $1.35 value, go at	89c
Misses' one buckle Overshoe, always $1.10, go at	69c
Men's rubber Boots, gum rubber, $3.75 value, close out	$2.69
Men's $1.25 low Rubbers, go in this sale	79c
Ladies' Spring Rubbers, $1.00 values to close out	69c

Ladies and Children's Furnishings

Ladies' black and tan Hosiery, 15c value, to close	8c
Children's heavy and fine ribbed, 20c values	11c
Our entire line of Laces and Embroideries, values up to 35c at	3c
Ribbons in plain taffeta, wide, and 25c values, go at	9c
Ladies' seamless wool Hosiery, 35c value, go at	19c
Children's white silk Hosiery and 35c value, close out	19c
Ladies' Summer Vests, a 15c value, go at	5c

Groceries

20 lbs. Sugar for $1.00 with every $5.00 Purchase

8 bars Soap Lenox or Santa Claus, at	25c
Arm and Hammer Soda, close out	7c
25c can Baking Powder, Calumet or K. C., go at	19c
One can each of Tomatoes, Corns and Peas, 3 for	25c
20c can sliced Peaches, to close out	15c
20c can Salmon, Columbia River at	15c
5c pkg. Yeast Foam, at	3c
5 lbs. Argo Starch in packages for	19c
6 boxes Matches six to a customer, for	19c
3 lb. can Pumpkin or Sauer Kraut, at	7c
7 lb. sack of Table Salt, closing out sale	7c
All Spices in any flavor, 10c packages, go at	7c
Gallon pail of Syrup, "Karo," light or dark	39c
1 package of 9 o'clock Washing Powder, and one bar Toilet Soap	10c
10 oz. jar Mustard Dressing, close out	8c

Notions

Safety Pins, all sizes, per card	3c
Pearl Button, dozen to the card, at	3c
Shoe Laces, ladies' or men's, 2 packages for	5c
Barrettes for light or dark hair, 25c value	9c
Elastic Web black and white, a yard	6c
Post Cards, all kinds, 10 for	5c
Bachelor Buttons, put them on yourself, at	6c
Corticello Silk Thread, any color, a spool	3c
Thimbles, will fit any finger, go at	1c
Combs, stag and black, values up to 25c, go at	5c
Needles, all sizes, while they last, at	2c

Hardware

Lanterns with burner and globe, $1.00 value, now at	69c
All Paints in stock 20% off and a full line of colors.
All Lantern Globes and Lamp Chimneys, each	7c
Milk Pails, 14 qt. size, a 60c value, go at	42c
Scrub Brushes large and good size, each	6c
Dinner Sets, Coffee Pots, Tea Pots, Flour Sieves, Graters and Cooking Sets go at	7c
Harness Snaps comes in two sizes, to close out, 7 for	10c
Horse Whips, 75c for 49c, the 35c kind sell for	18c

Fixtures for Sale

OTHER MERCHANTS PLEASE NOTE.

- 1 STIMPSON COMPUTING SCALE.
- 4 SHOW CASES.
- 4 COUNTERS.
- 2 COFFEE MILLS.
- 1 CASH REGISTER.

STORE WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY FRIDAY, MARCH 3, TO ARRANGE THE STORE

Every Article in the Store not Mentioned Here WILL BE MARKED DOWN TO COST OR BELOW

Entire Stock Placed in Hands of the T. K. Kelly Sales Co., Minneapolis, to Sell Out Completely